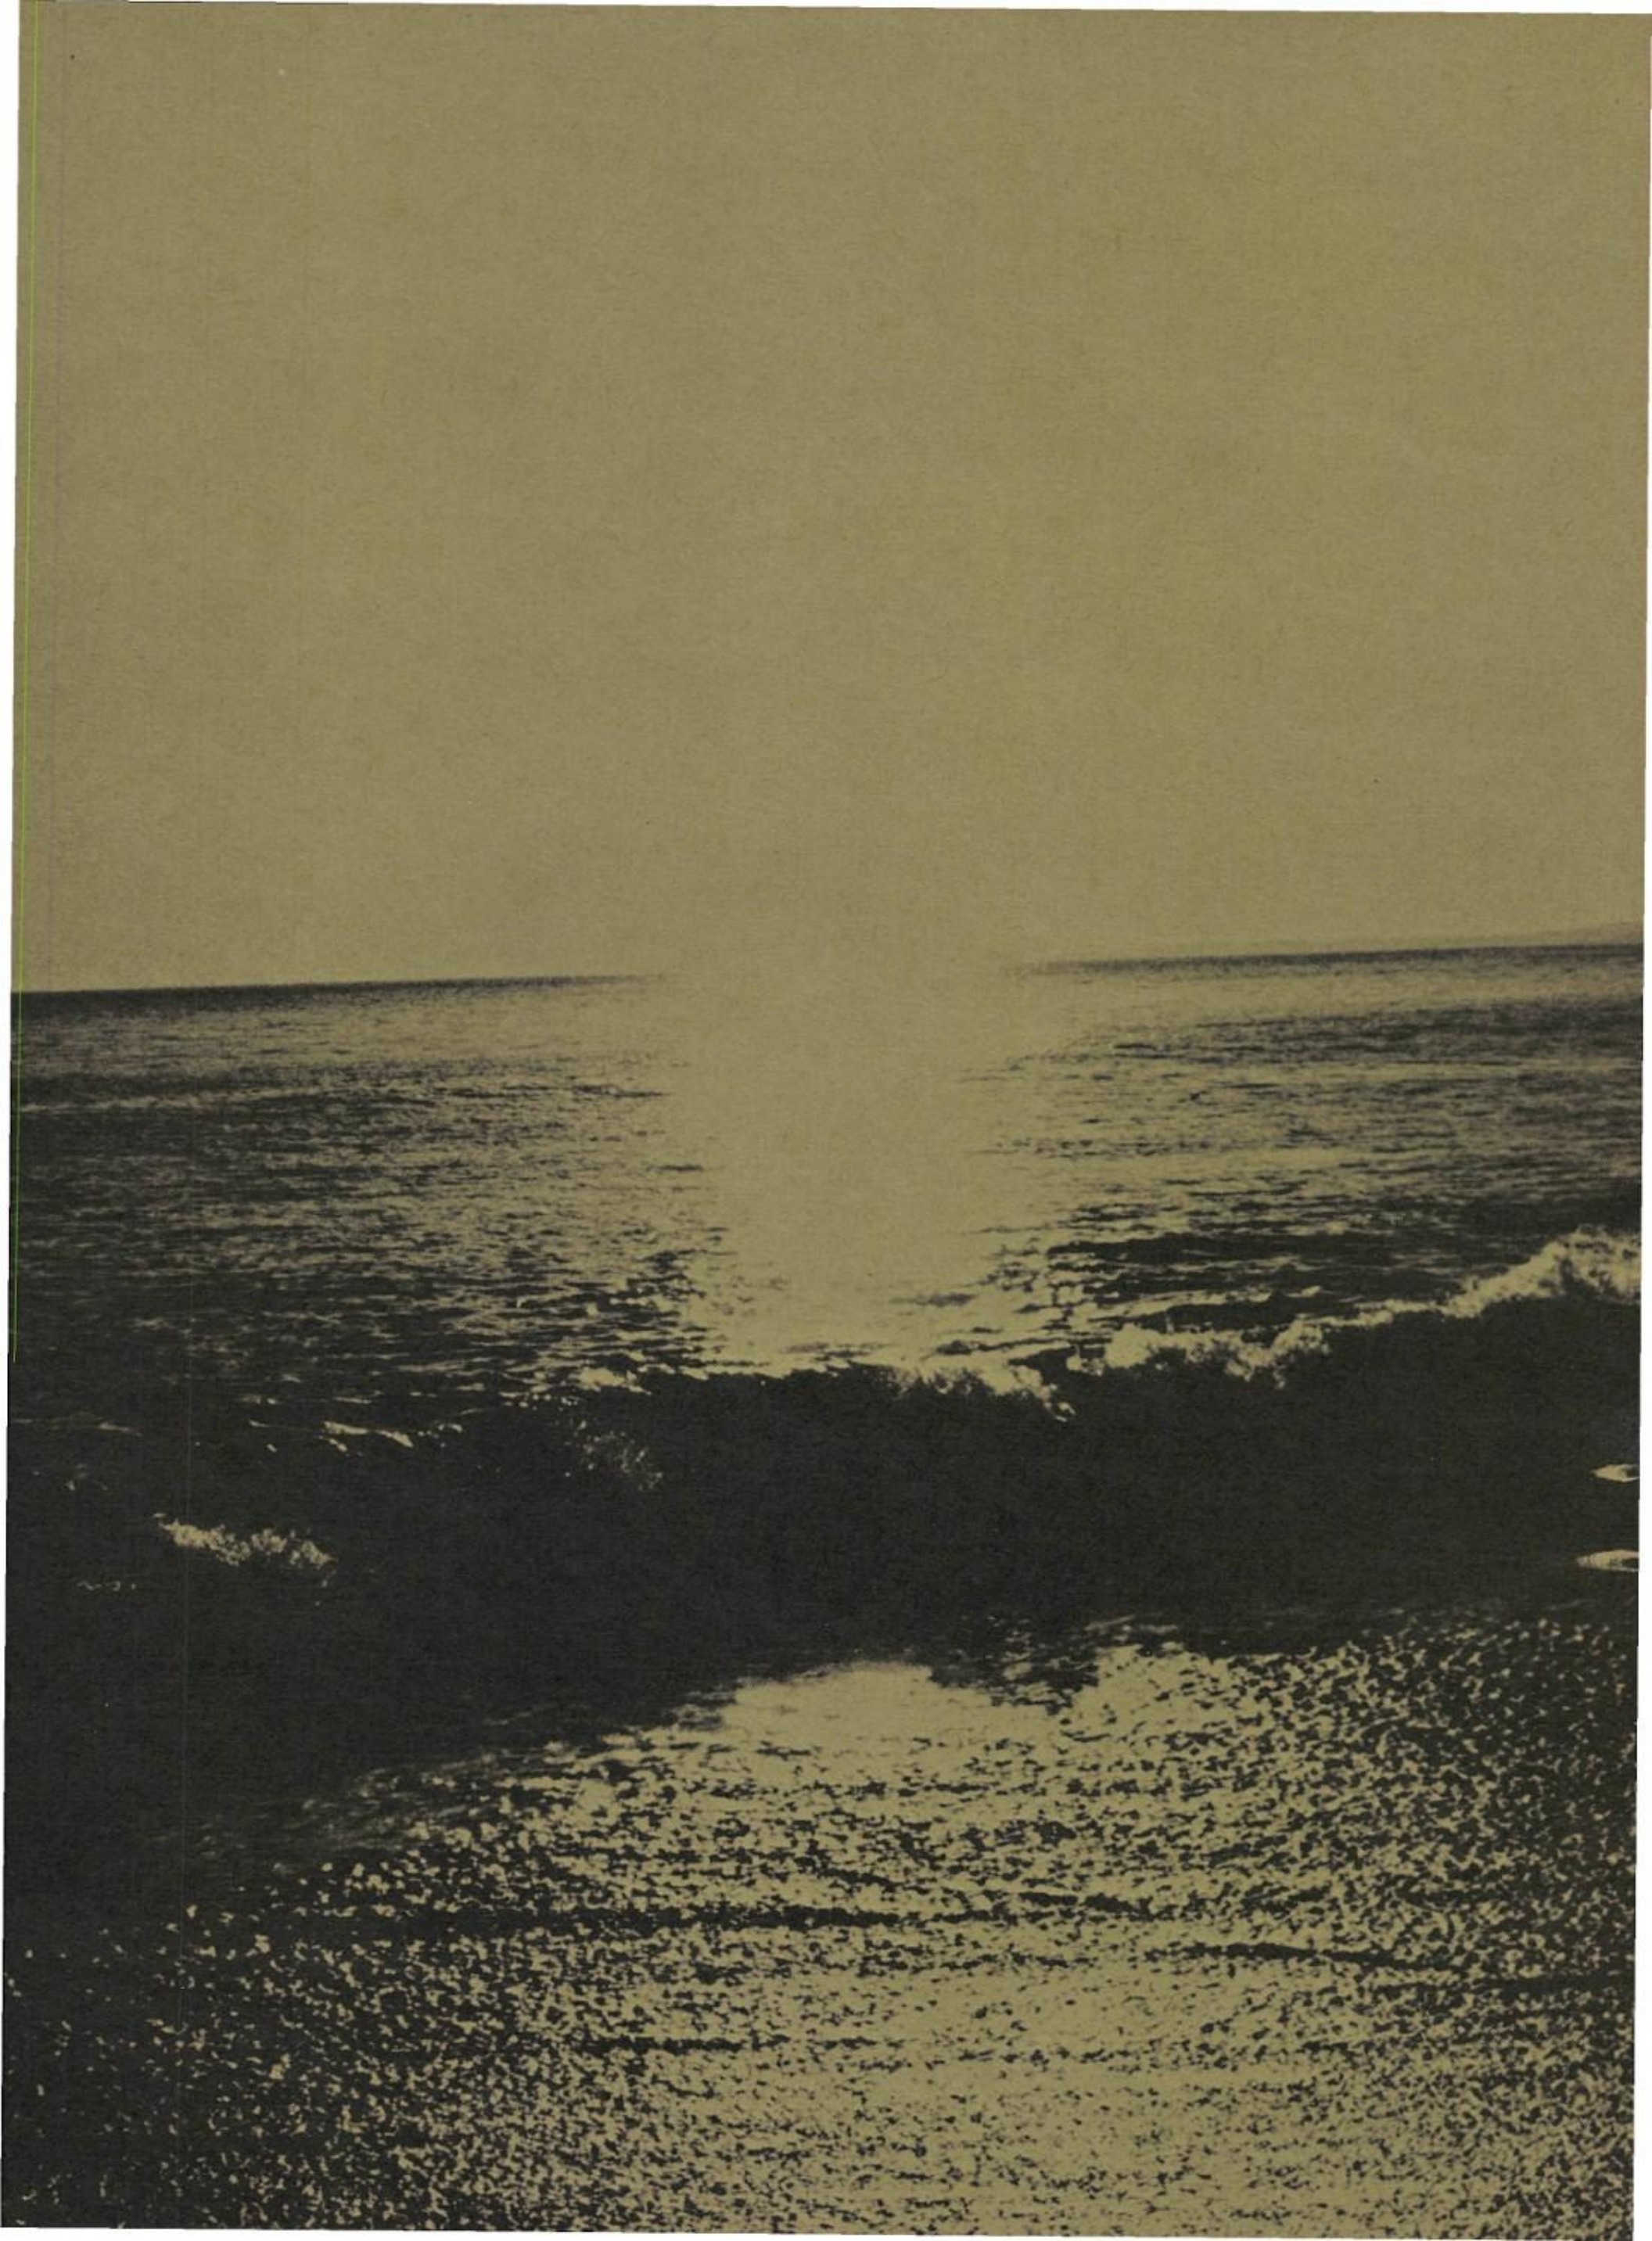
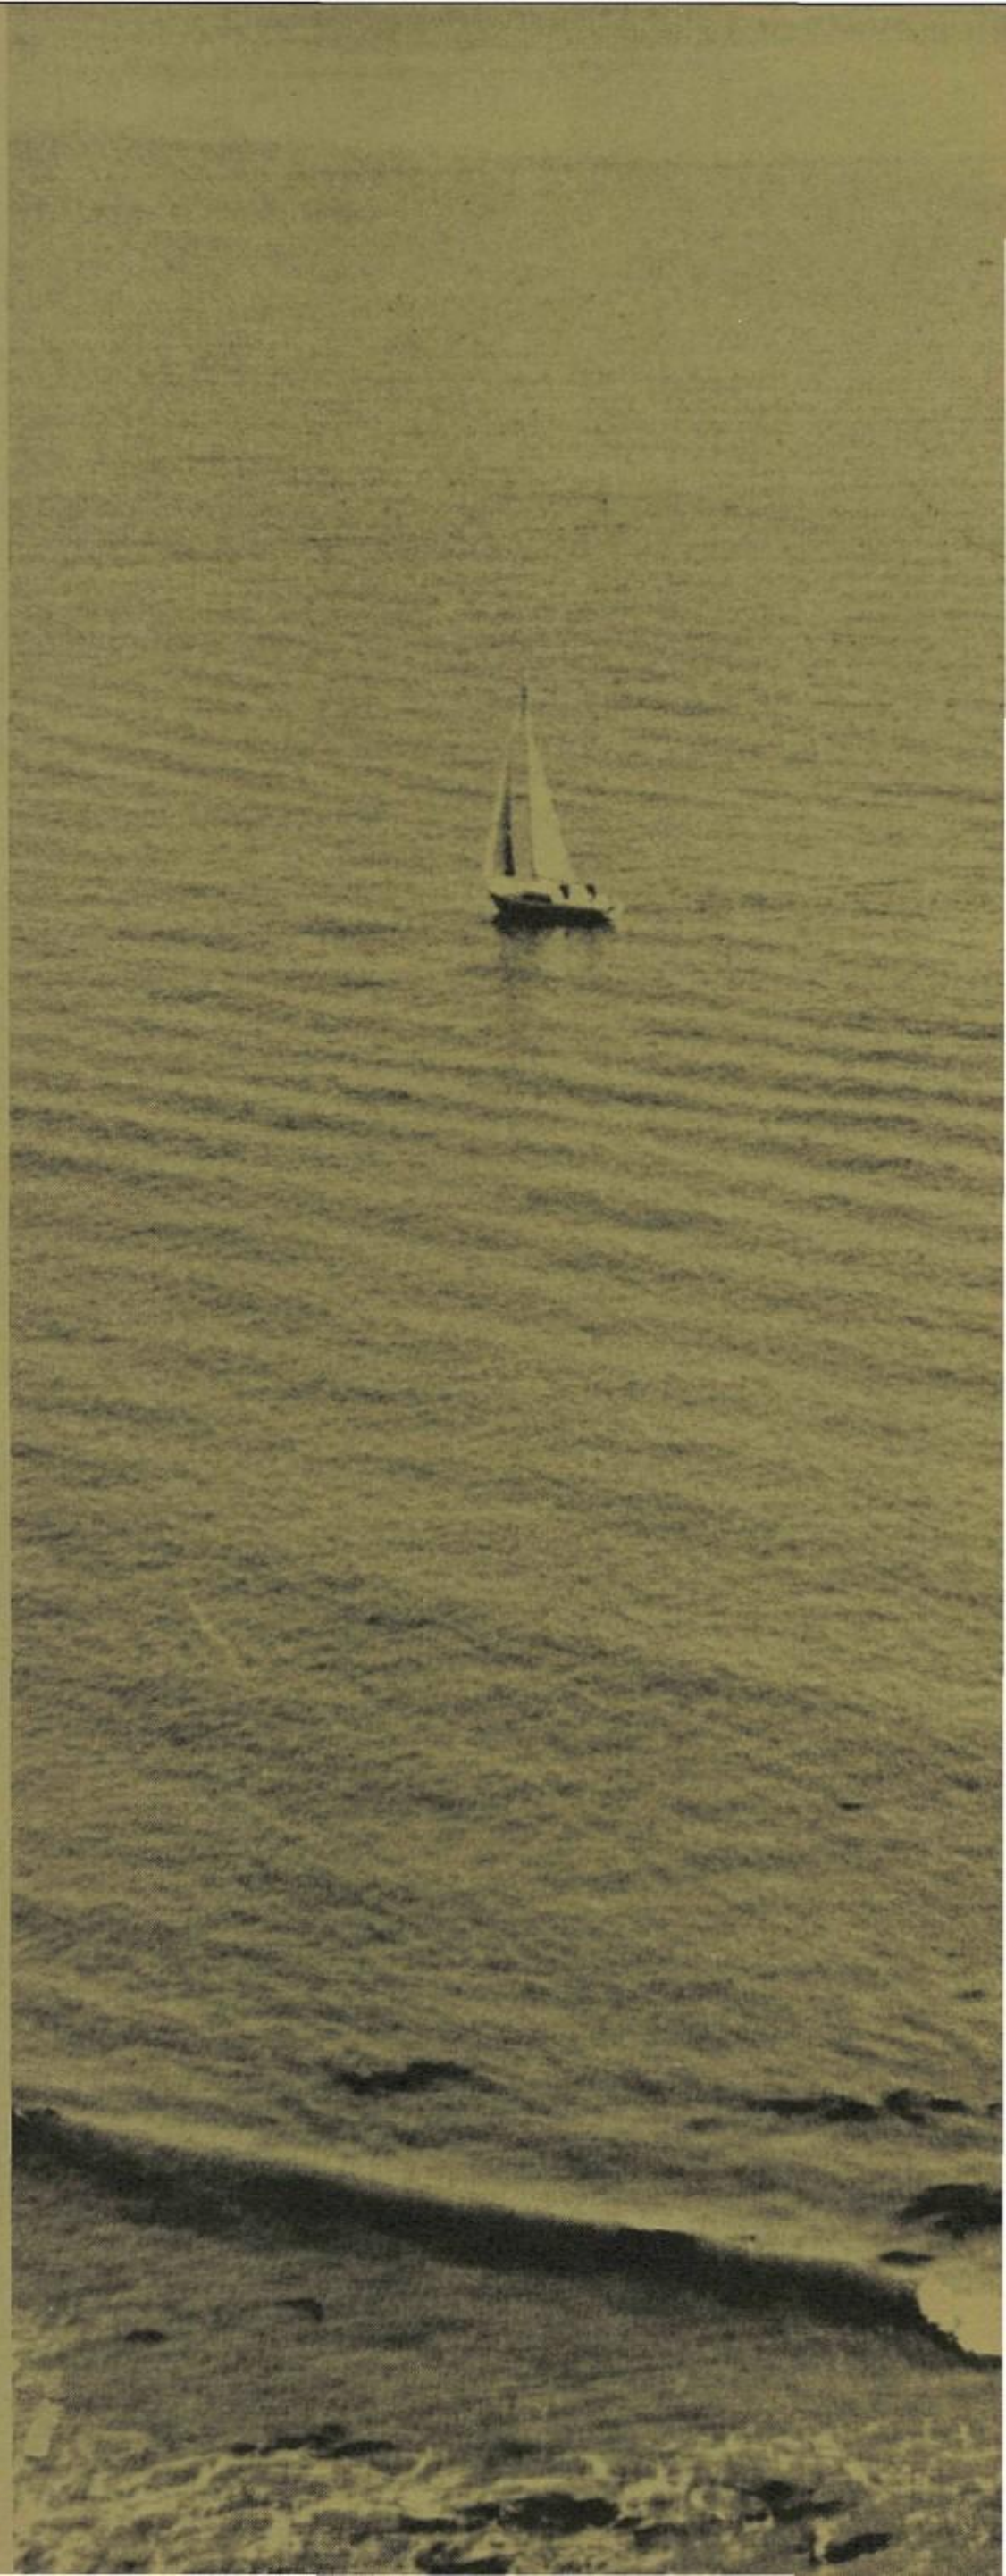
You've watched sunsets, and sunrises, and traced the profile of a mountain chain against a blue sky. The profile you've traced is a horizon; a taut string which engulfs suns and moons as they shift in their astrological positions in the universe. Yet, Compass 1971 wants you to set your own horizon, with its own characteristics, crevices and protrusions. Some people's horizons are more crumpled than others; some are foggy; some are distant; and still others will mean smooth-sailing all the way. Whatever your horizon may be, wherever it may lead, follow it with unflinching will. Compass offers horizons as the theme for the book . . .

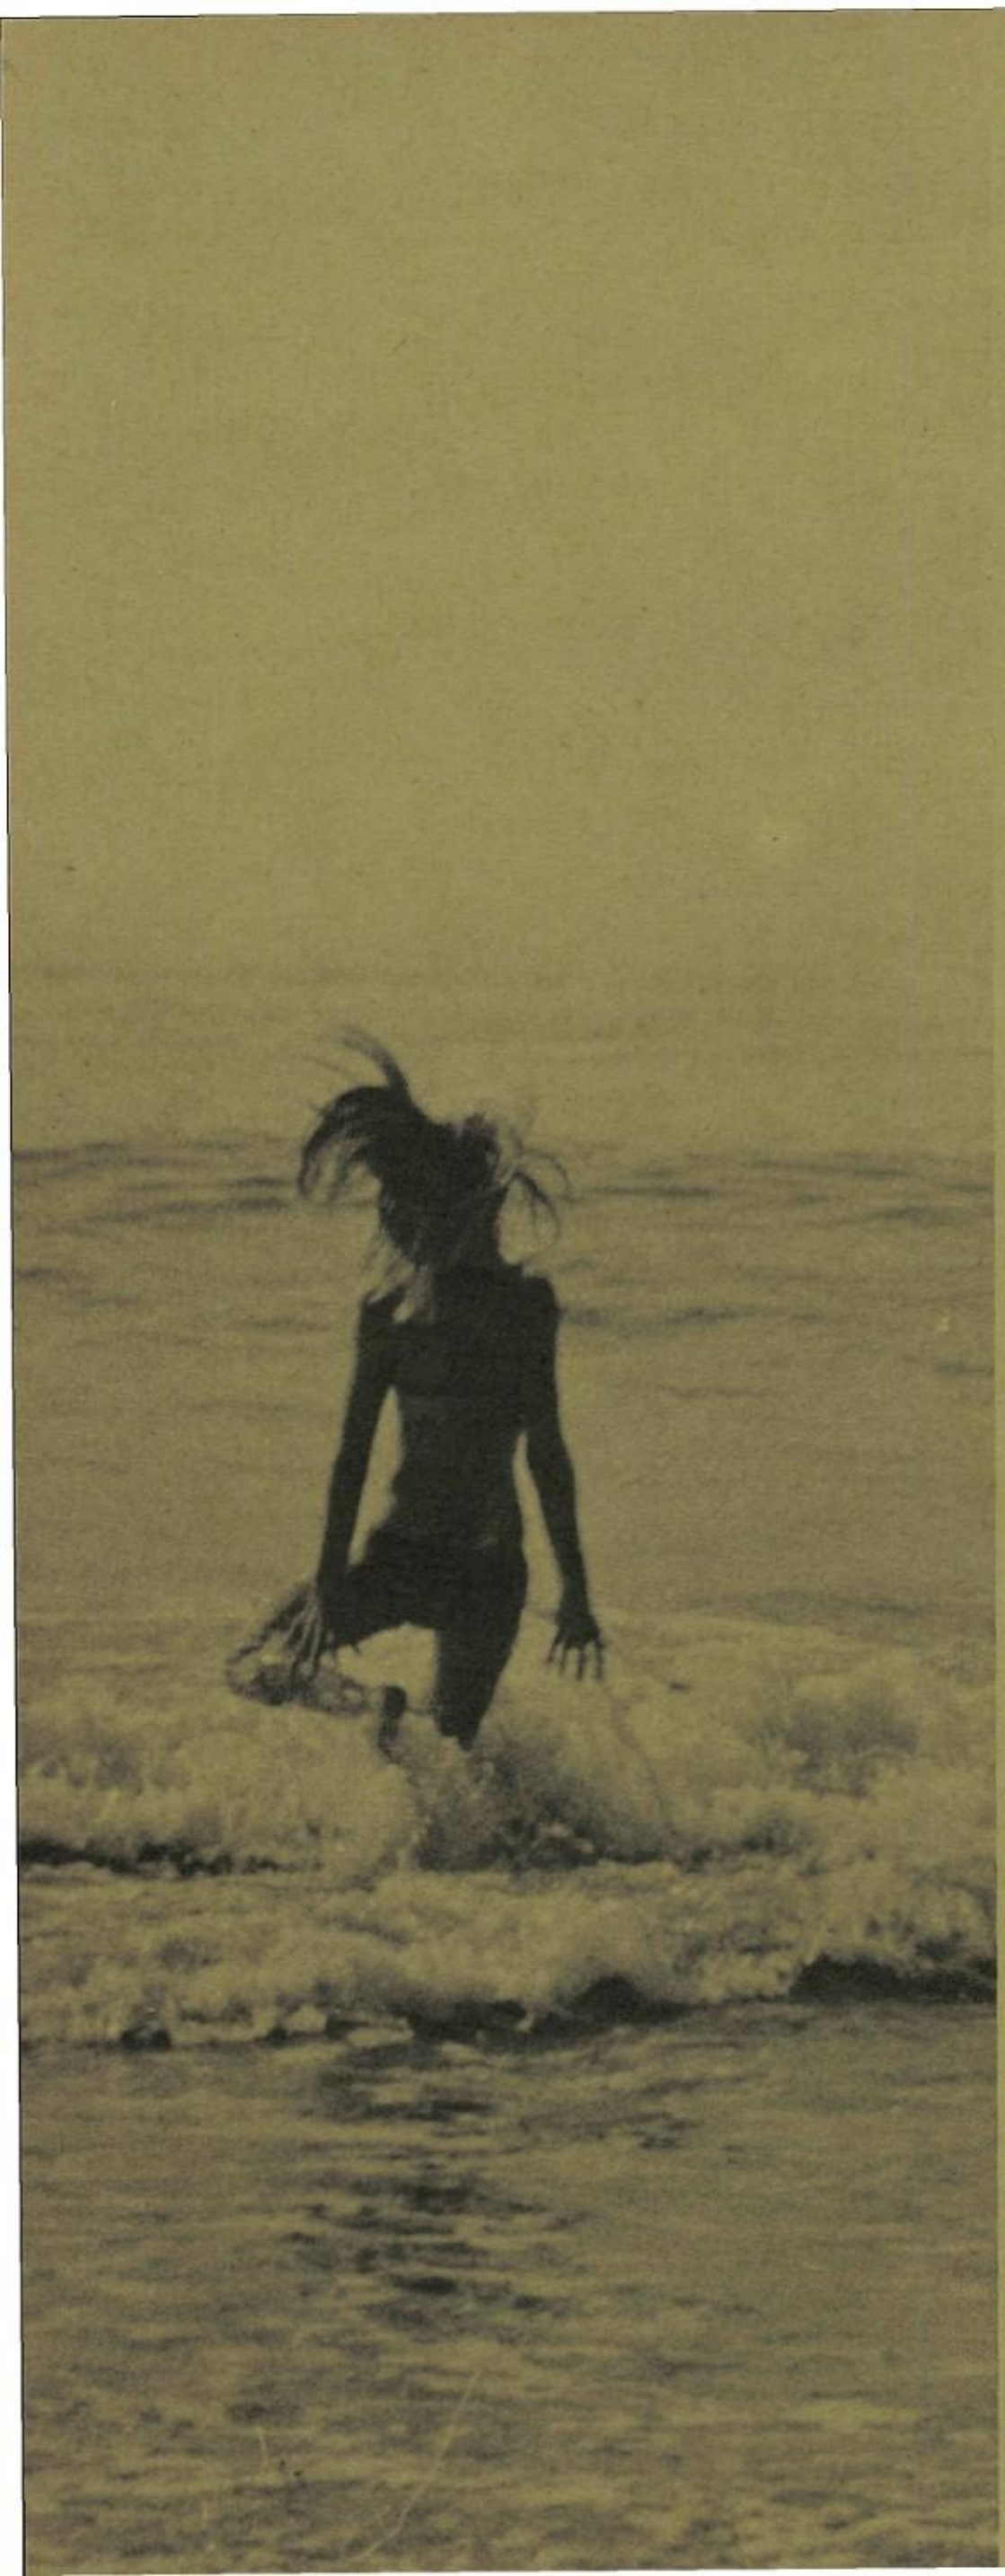


"Whatever the ocean pales, or the sky
inlips,
Is thine, if thou wilt have it."

William Shakespeare

A sea of little drops of water. Each drop eddying itself in whirlpools and waves; running after its own tail, unaware that it will remain uncaught. It will carry on with its chase. It tries to prove its individuality by spraying itself defiantly across the haggard face of a cliff.





"Water its living strength first shows,
When obstacles its course oppose."

Goethe

The sting of salt that follows the breaking of a misty wave; the haunting echo of the conch as it whispers of far-off lands in your ears; the pathetic splish-splash of a baby wave that is lost; the rolling, rumbling wave as it prostrates itself gallantly at the mercy of the white sand; the tireless flight of the sea birds as they swoop at prey.

The sea meets the sky at the thin horizon line, softly dipping into a curve at the far edges. No matter how far you travelled you could never reach this horizon. Or could you?

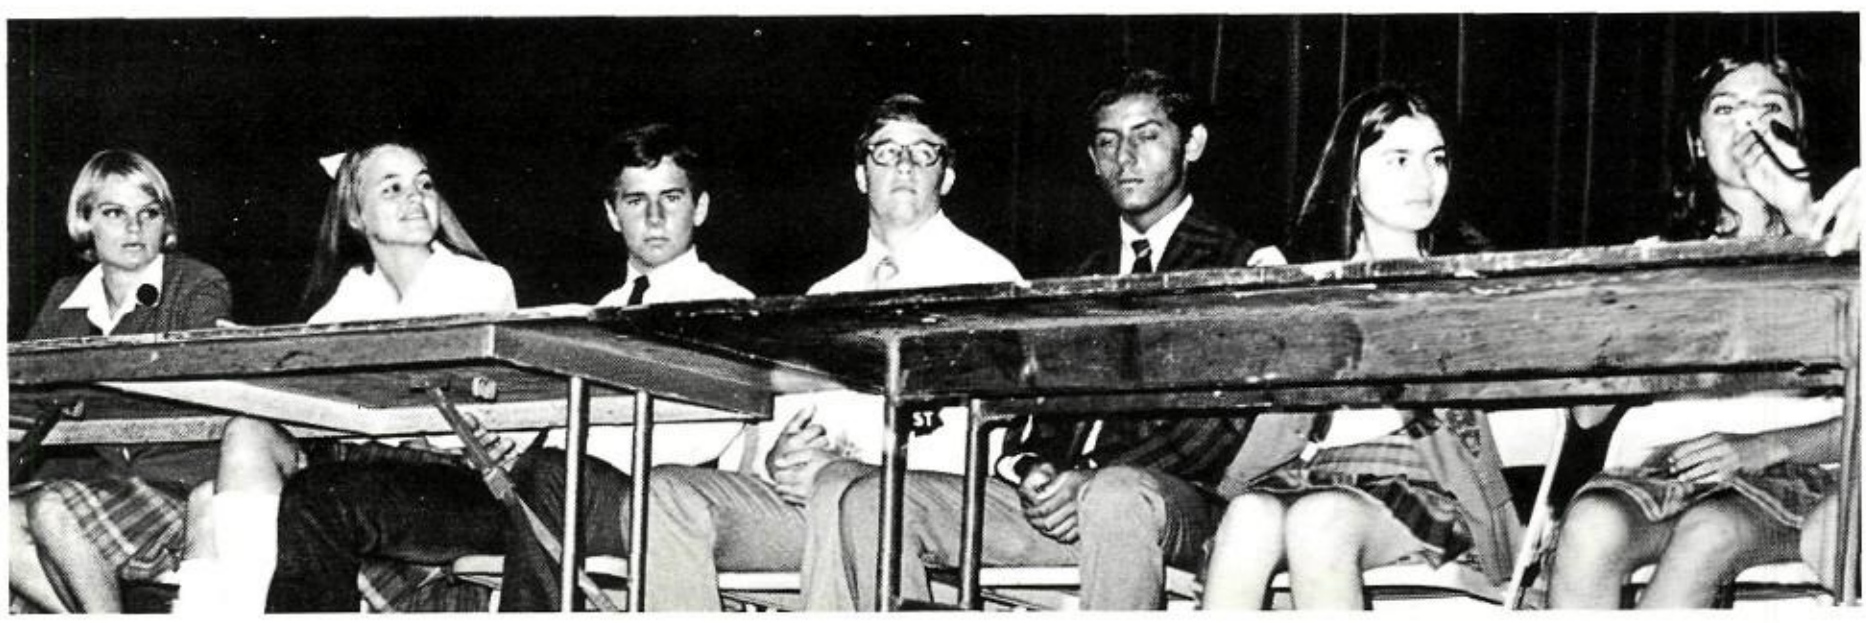
Freshmen Receive Grand Welcome

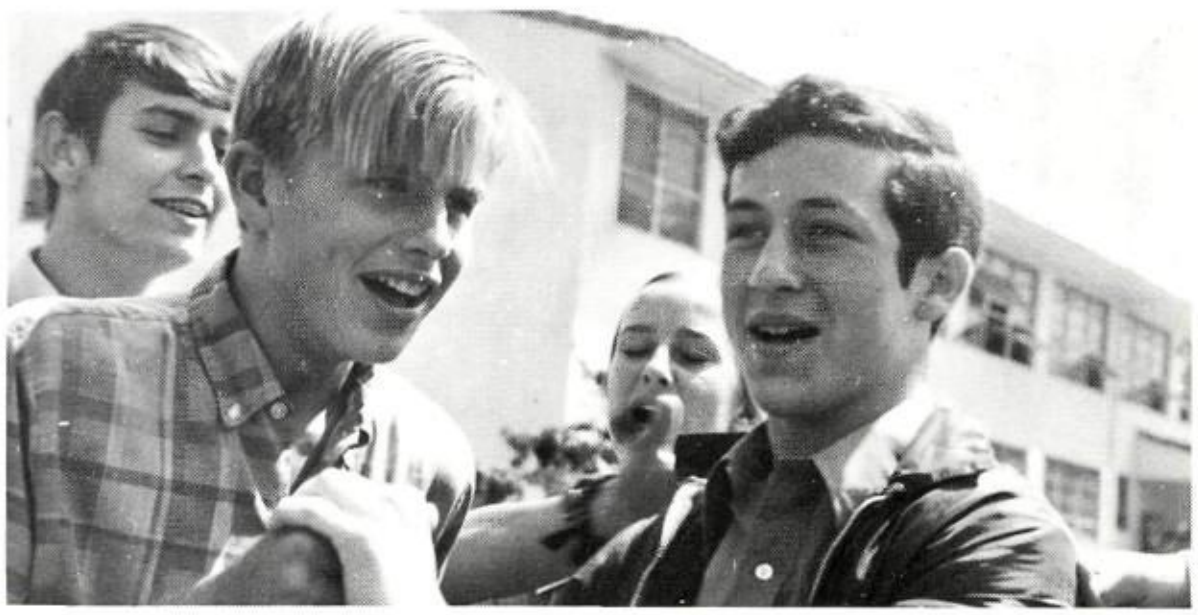
On Friday, September 11, 1970 St. Monica High School welcomed the registering class of 1974 with an orientation program. The program was organized by Cindy Spallino and Robin Sullivan, Misses Welcome and Rick Herrera, Mr. Welcome. Assisting them were Student Body Presidents Yoshi Takahashi and Michele Spak, and Senior class presidents Jim Halliman and Kathy Weir.

The program began at 9 AM with all freshmen reporting to homerooms to receive schedules. From 10 to 11:30 Senior Big Brothers and Sisters gave tours of the East and West wings of the school. At 11:30 all Freshmen reported to the auditorium, where Sister Michaeline Mary, Principal; Mr. Bradley, Boys Vice Principal; Mr. Altobelli, Dean of Discipline; and Sister Delores Rashford were introduced.

The next part of the program was prepared by a group of upperclassmen, and was devoted to academic orientation. Students who participated in this program were, Juniors Gaby DeCuir, Gary Nitti, and Seniors Hector Romero, Brian O'Rourke, Marlies Paup, Annette Simons and Cindy Spallino. After lunch Freshmen were introduced to Dr. Gabriel, Dean of Students' Activities and Club Organization heads who gave a talk on their organization. The orientation was then concluded.

Initiation week was held from September 14th to the 17th.

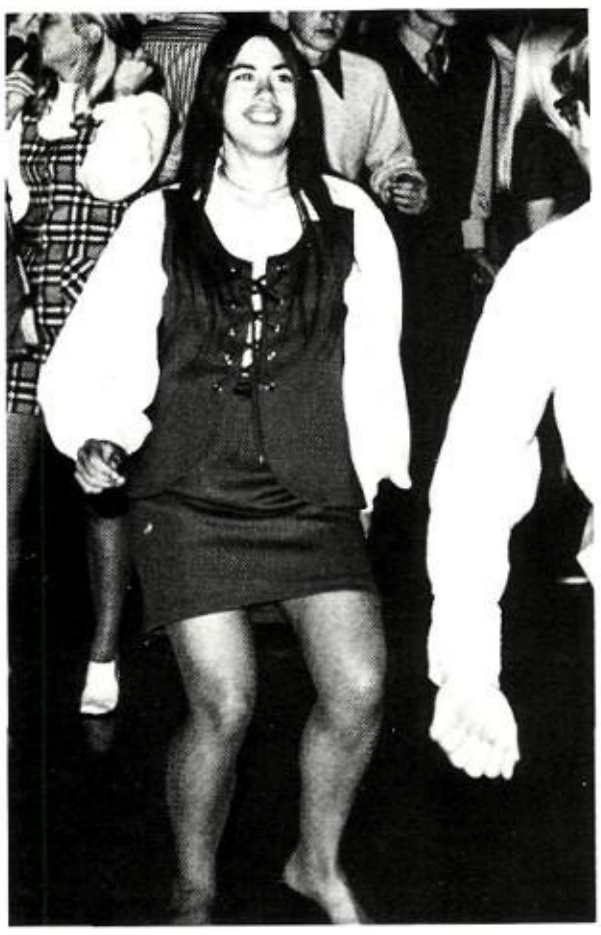


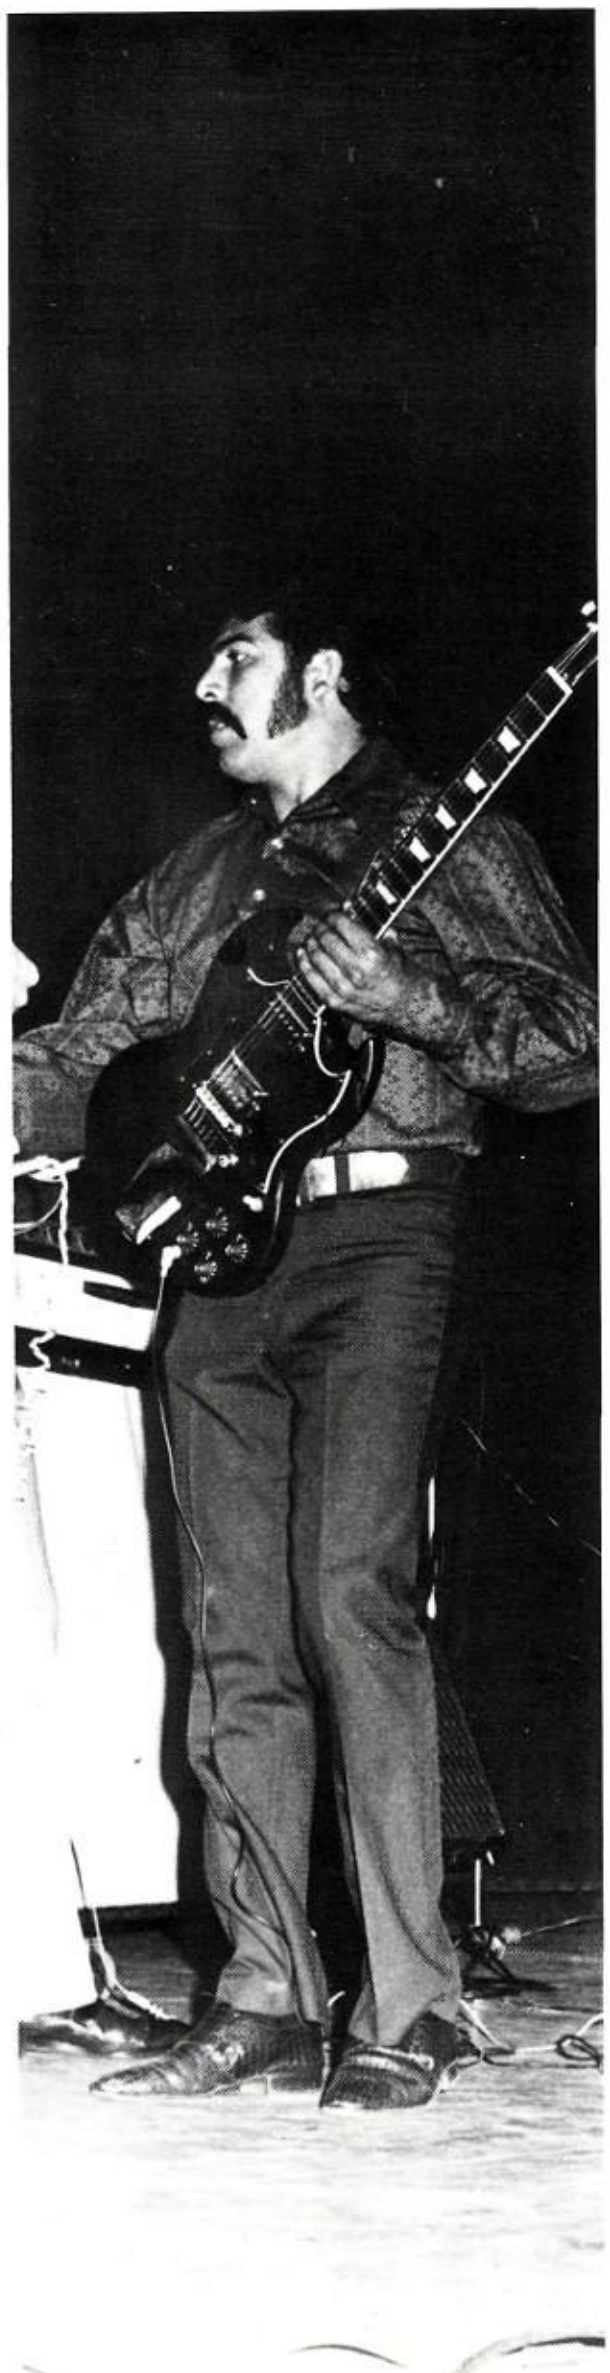


Green & Gold, Compass Dance Very Successful

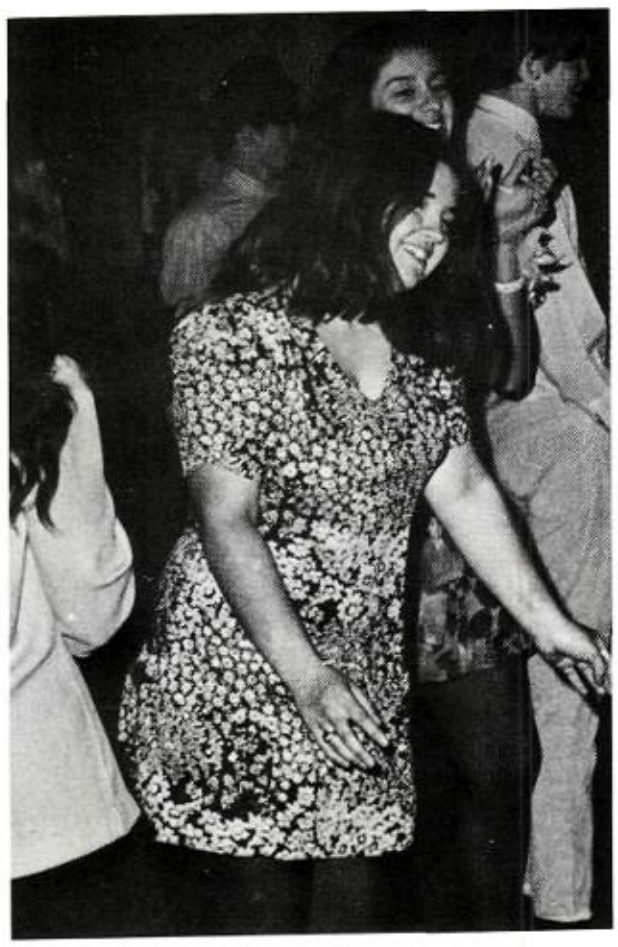
Sanitation Night was this year's theme of the Green and Gold Dance which is traditionally put on by Student Council. The Dance capped off a week full of Freshman orientation activities.

Student Council lead paper drives, can drives, and keep the school clean drives during this week. Though this did not remedy the age old problem of ecology on the campus of Saint Monica, the dance was a tremendous success.





The yearbook staff initiated a dance which was known as the Compass Annual Costume Ball. The dance was given a week after Halloween while traces of ghosts and hobgoblins were still in the air. A price reduction was given to those students wearing costumes. And so they came: clowns, cavemen, birds, and rag dolls. Prizes were given out to the various chosen costumes. The prize was a yearbook. Not bad, huh? It survived the trial of a "first" and proved to be a financial and social success.



Enthusiasm Makes George "M" Successful

GEORGE M!

Last September, Dr. Lawrence V. Gabriel began casting for the musical comedy GEORGE M! which was going to be presented in December. This was going to prove a tremendous undertaking (no dismal pun intended). It would involve "a cast of thousands", 1890-1930 costumes, and over a dozen tap dancing numbers. Despite these discouraging elements, Dr. Gabriel and his cast and crew made molehills out of mountains in a matter of weeks. They displayed an outstanding ability to work together for the goal of making GEORGE M! a success.

George M. Cohan was an exciting man of many talents which are all related to the effervesant world of musical-comedy. The role of George was played by talented Ted Nichols. George was one-fourth of a family act composed of his Irish father, played by Larry Condelli, his mother, portrayed by the lovely Georgette Rowland, and his sister Josie, whose role was created by Patti Purwin. Cyndi Fusco and Marcia Johnson depicted the two contrasting women in George's life. Gabrielle DeCuir was the glamorous Fay Templeton, and Brian O'Rourke the ever-so-convincing Sam Harris.

The Stage Managers, Michele Spak and Rosemary Luca were Dr. Gabriel's right arm during the production of the play. Sister Mary Dolora and Miss Woods lent their indispensable talent as pianists for all rehearsals. Dr. Gabriel was the source of all enthusiasm and organization. On opening night, an audience composed of senior citizens, adults, students, and many more gave GEORGE M! the warm and deserving response it had earned.

HOMECOMING 1970

Unlike the procedure during previous years when the Junior and Senior boys were responsible for the election of the Homecoming court, this year, the decision was left up to the entire student body. This way, we could really say that the court was that of the school's.

On October 22, the queen and her court were announced by Fred Anderson, Homecoming Commissioner. They were as follows: Queen Cindy Spallino, and Princesses Barbara Lennon, Jonette LaBarbera, Janice Oakley, and Barbara Coda.

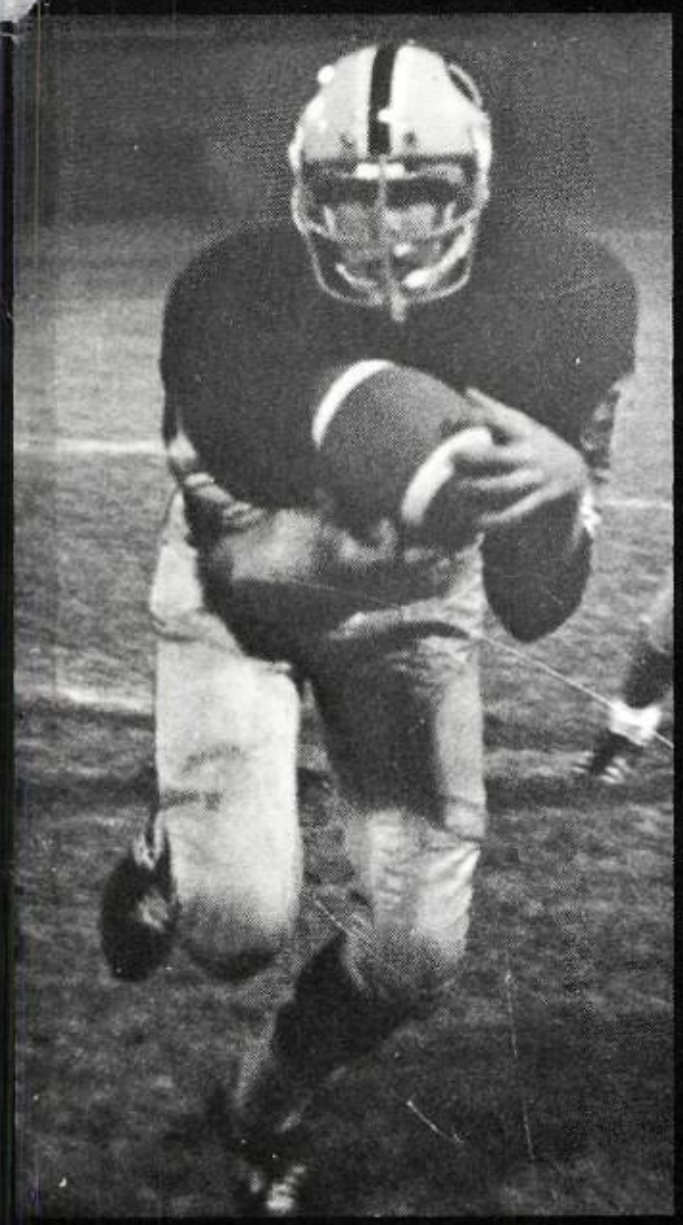
Homecoming Game

Friday, November 6th, 1970, the St. Monica Mariners met El Segundo in the annual Homecoming Game. The Mariners jumped out ahead 7-0 in the first few minutes of the game. From that point on, the game proved to be disasterous. Homecoming festivities were marred at half time with the score being 24-7.

Through the valiant scoring efforts, the Mariners were able to tie the game in the third quarter. But the Mariners continued in their usual manner, the final score being 39-27.



Seniors Show Ingenuity Through Exmas Dance

The Senior class held their last dance in January. Theirs was the Post-Christmas dance. The Senior sense of humor (?) was shown in the decorations. A large poster of W. C. Fields was put up, captioned with: Who put pineapple juice in my pineapple juice? An enormous martini bottle was hung from the ceiling, giving an Alice-in-Wonderland sensation. The Seniors showed their ingenuity and know-how by the presentation of their dance. Three words define the dance: fun, successful, and exciting.

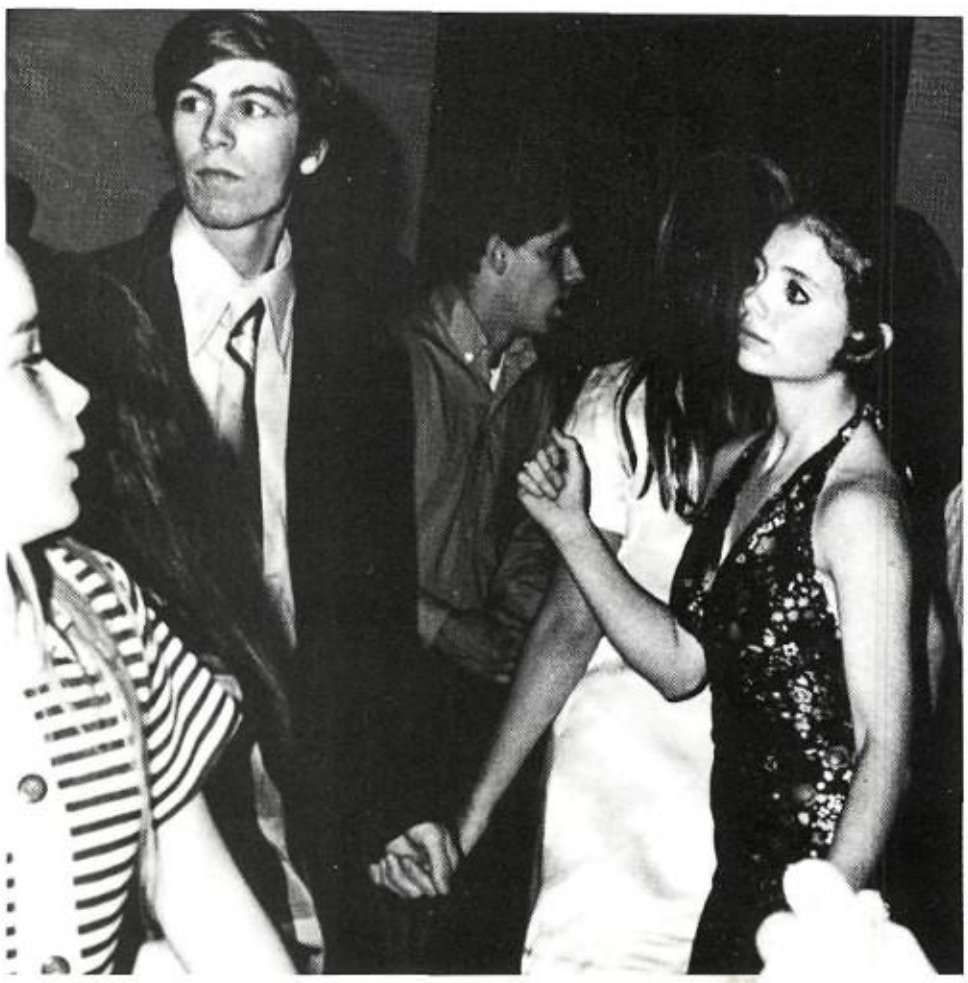
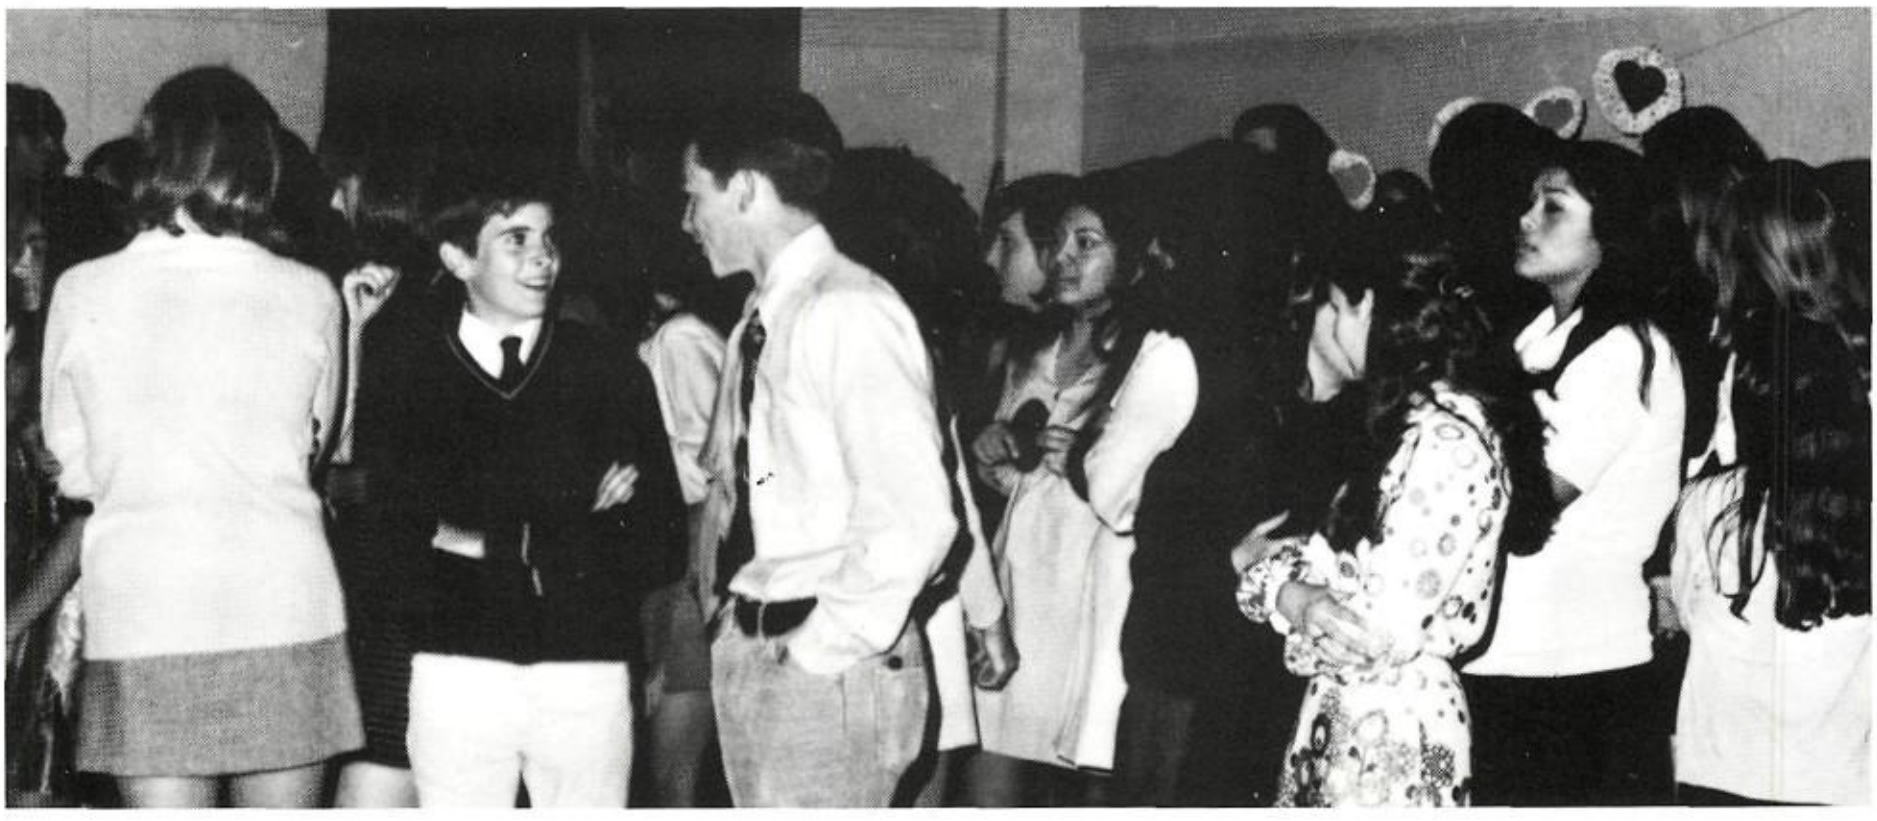
The Look of Love

The Look of Love was the theme that the Class of '72 used for their dance. Hearts strewn around the refreshment stand, a heart mobile suspended from the ceiling, and a tunnel of love were a few of the types of decorations that were used. Steve Mackin should be recognized for heading the decoration committee. Mr. LaFontaine generously lent the class some films of t.v. commercials and these were projected on the auditorium wall. The refreshment stand was attended by Linda Clint and her assistants. Colleen Henry volunteered for the organization of publicity, bids, and tied up all loose ends. The music was provided by the Saxons. The dance was a romantic, as well as a financial, success.





Spirit Promoted Through Hi-Jinx

Hi-Jinx is a traditional activity sponsored by the G.A.A. for the girls to help promote a sense of class spirit and unity. This year, it was held on February 26, 1971. The theme was "Golden Ages." Preparations began a week before when each class selected a subtitle and a princess, and organized a skit in which to present her. On Thursday night, February 25, each class decorated their sections and painted murals in final preparation for Friday's festivities. The Freshmen presented their princess Cathy Jacobs in the spirit of the GAY NINETIES, while the Sophomore class' princess Louise Bourque reigned over the period of the ROARING 20's. The Juniors' princess Cathy Newell was presented in a ROMAN skit, and the Senior princess Barbara Blaser was presented in a place called Ceniorlot during MIDEVIL times.

Following the presentations, the Girls' Class Basketball Championships were played by the Juniors and the Seniors.

Banners were presented for the third year in a row to the class of 1971 for Queen, Presentation, and Basketball. Barbara Blaser was crowned by 1970's queen, Janice Smiley. The spirit banner went to the Sophomore class.

St. Monica First School in Country to Present "Hello Dolly!"

HELLO DOLLY!

Under the excellent direction of Mr. Larry Gabriel, the Senior class of St. Monica presented the Broadway musical HELLO DOLLY! on the evenings of March 12,13,14, and 15 in Cantwell auditorium. Mr. Gabriel's right arm during this production was Kathy Putziger, who served as Stage Manager. Piano accompanyment was provided during the first act by Miss Mary Ruth Woods, and during the second act, by Sister Mary Dolora.

The play begins in New York City around the year 1898. Dolly Gallagher Levi (played by Cyndi Fusco), a "jack of all trades," is on her way to Yonkers, New York to find Horace Vandergelder, the well-known Yonkers half-a-millionaire, a second suitable wife. In truth, she plans to marry him herself.

Meanwhile, in Yonkers, we meet Vandergelder (David Decker), his two clerks Cornelius (Brian Jacobs) and Barnaby (Todd Tatum), and his forever-weeping niece Ermengarde. Vandergelder is one who believes that most people in this world are fools, and the rest of us are in great contamination of becoming one. He has made the decision to do the most foolish thing . . . to marry again.

When Dolly arrives in Yonkers, she proceeds to clear the field of her rivals, including Irene Molloy (Annette Simons), whom she herself introduced to Vandergelder, by telling him about a wonderful catch—Ernestina Money (played by Muriel White) with whom a meeting can be arranged that very afternoon at the 14th Street Association Parade. Vandergelder agrees to meet her only after first seeing Mrs. Molloy, and goes off to New York on business, leaving his two clerks in charge. But Cornelius and Barnaby have decided that they want to have some fun in life, and so they leave for New York, with plans of not returning until they've each kissed a girl.

On returning to New York City, we meet Mrs. Molloy and her assistant Minnie Fay (Marcia Johnson), in her hat shop. By chance, Cornelius and Barnaby take refuge in the shop, and hide under tables and in closets to avoid being discovered by Vandergelder, who has come into the shop to meet Dolly and Mrs. Molloy. Despite their best efforts, Vandergelder does discover that there are men in the shop, and is angry enough to break off his relationship with Mrs. Molloy all together, and informs Dolly that he will meet the heiress Ernestina, as previously planned.

Cornelius and Barnaby try their best to apologize to Mrs. Molloy, and Dolly convinces her that the only way that things could be settled was for herself and Minnie to have dinner with them. Realizing that they had no money, Cornelius mentions a lovely place in the station. But Mrs. Molloy insists that the Harmonia Gardens was good enough for his fashionable friend, that was the place for them also. Cornelius, of course, objects because he can't dance. But the helpful Dolly hands him a card that says Dolly Levi—33 year old chief clerks taught how to dance. Cornelius and Barnaby then take Mrs. Molloy and Minnie to see the 14th Street Association Parade, and Dolly, having matched someone else is now alone. She speaks to her late husband Ephraim Levi, and explains why she plans to marry Vandergelder. She dreads leading a safe solitary life and wants to rejoin the human race. She sings of her wants in her solo, BEFORE THE PARADE PASSES BY.

At the Harmonia Gardens, Dolly is greeted by the chefs and waiters, and Mrs. Molloy, Minnie, and their escorts, arrive at approximately the same time. . .

Dolly now sets about hooking Vandergelder. First, she assumes that he is longing to marry her, and she turns him down flat. Then she paints a grey picture of what life in Yonkers will be like without her. Then she convinces him that his well-ordered existence is somewhat less than he assumed in the confusion brought about when he discovered not only his two clerks, but also his niece Ermengarde and her fiance Ambrose (Mike Hummer), in the Gardens show. After some violence, and an arresting of all, Vandergelder fires Cornelius on the spot and is utterly amazed that his humble 33 year old clerk expresses his love for Mrs. Molloy in front of one and all in a court of law and order . . Vandergelder is held with charges of disturbing the peace, and hears Dolly say that the only thing she can do under the circumstances is to say Goodbye, as she sings SO LONG DEARIE.

Early the next morning, back in Yonkers, Vandergelder, without clerks, without niece, and most of all, without Dolly, realizes that he too has been a fool—and he would be an even greater fool if he let this wonderful woman slip out of his fingers like dust. And so he asks Dolly, who conveniently returns having expected such a turn of events, to forgive him and marry him as they sing HELLO DOLLY! and the curtains close.

This is the first time anything so big has been attempted, and thanks to the help of Mr. Gabrile, and all concerned, HELLO DOLLY! was a fantastic production and a great financial success.

Mariners Possess Many League Offensive Leaders

Saint Monica's Varsity Football team in 1970 will long be remembered as the team which had it all but never put it together.

Offensively, the Mariners had a powerful team led by George Haro who at the end of the season was the Bay Area Leading Passer. The Mariners had the best backfield in the history of St. Monia, with Stephan Hulbert and Rick Herrera with power. At season's end Stephan Hulbert was voted to All League, All Bay Area, All West Side and wound up the Pioneer league's Leading Scorer. Rick Herrera unfortunately broke his leg during the Daniel Murphy game, which was a terrible blow to the team. Rick Hattaway, All Bay Area, was one of the four excellent receivers who wound up 1,2,3,4 in Bay Area receiving. The others being, Randy Triviz, Stephan Hulbert, Phil Wroblicky.

With one of the most power offenses in the state of California, the Mariners found themselves with one of the worst defenses. This combination proved to be too much and the Mariners ended the season with 1 win and 8 losses.

Among the team leaders were James Hallinan, Jose Guerrero, and Gary Nitti. James Hallinan, at the end the season, was All League, 2nd in the League Finals, 21st in the CIF and shares with Gary Nitti the school record for 2.1 miles. Jose Guerrero finished 9th place in the league, 28th place in the CIF, and holds the school record for 2 miles. Gary Nitti, at the end of the season, was All League, 4th in the League Finals, and 22nd in the CIF.

Other excellent runners on the team were Reinhold Dillon, Bill La Vette, Juniors Ricardo Carasco, and Art Lucero.

Next year, the team should be in contention for the CIF title, as many excellent JV runners will be returning to the Varsity team.

Baseball Team Proves To Be Exceptional

Saint Monica proved to be a Spring school sport wise, and the Baseball Team proved to be exceptional. Tom Houchen who had the woes of a new coach last year took firmer command as the team posted a winning record. Lettermen who returned from last year were All-league Chava Haro, George Haro, and Mike Festa.

The highlight of the year was Dennis Oakley, a sophomore, throwing a no-hit game against Harvard. That game was won 12-0.

Swimmers Enter Tuff Pioneer League

This year will long be remembered as one of transition. This was especially hard on the swim team because the Pioneer League has three of the best swimming teams in California, they are Lawndale, El Segundo, and Miraleste. Saint Monica evened the odds and came out with a successful season.

The team was coached by Rick Hunter, a member of the U.C.L.A. swim team, and his knowledge proved valuable in many of the swim meets. Returning lettermen who proved to be the backbone of the team were Dave Whitely, Todd Tatum, Ray Klien, and Phil Thompson.

Track No. 1 Varsity Sport During 1971

Last year's track team had hopes for a great season. The team 8-3 has the best record of any team in the school. This year, hopes became reality as St. Monica's rolled up a 9-1 record, broke 11 varsity school records, collected 48 medals in relay competition, and placed 10 athletes in C.I.F. On top of this, there was the added honor of the first league Championship of any sport in the last 7 years.

The team was led by many great individual performers, who won consistently against tough competition. Stephen Hulbert never lost a 100 or 220 yard dash; Bob D'Angelo put the shot over 50 feet many times; George Centeno and Randy Triviz grabbed consistent firsts in the pole vault and hurdles; distance runners Jim Hallinan (2 mile), Reinhold Dillion (880) and Bill LaVette (440) all set new school records in the winning of their individual events.

These seniors will be sorely missed next year; however, the crop of excellent juniors are ready to take their place. Gary McDonald (100 yard dash), Gary Nitti (mile, mile relay), Roger Archanbault (high and low hurdles), Phil Wroblicky (shot, high hurdles) and Riccardo Carrasco (2 mile) have all had many wins against varsity competition and are well prepared to carry on the winning tradition of Saint Monica's track team.

From the record and accomplishments of this team, it is easy to see that it is probably the best team of any sport at Saint Monica's in the last 12 years and richly deserves recognition as the number one sport Saint Monica in the year 1971

Amen!!!!!!

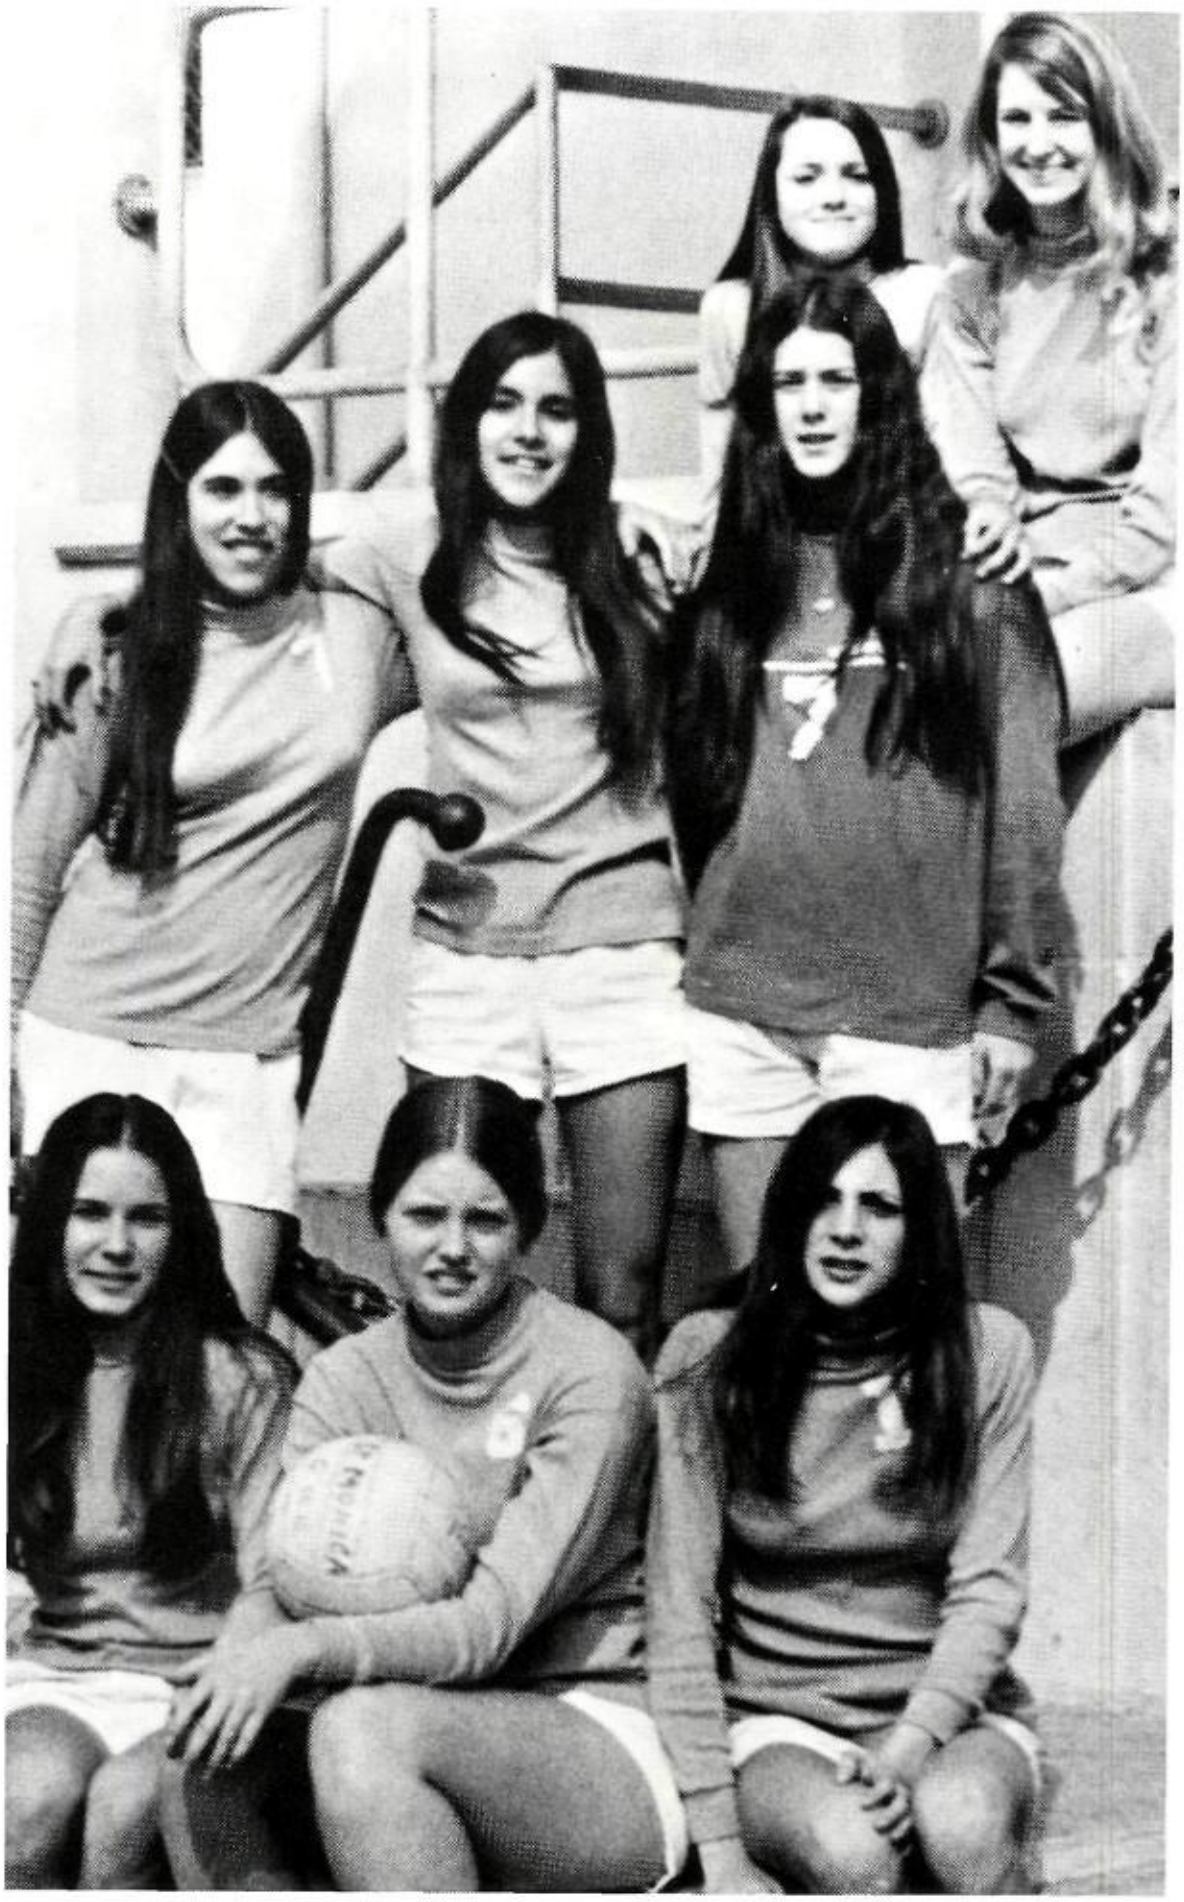
Girls Defend AAU National Title

This year the girls' varsity volleyball team had a hard time living up to its achievements of the past, namely, the national championship. Seniors, Joanna Pope (captain), Margie Macias (co-captain), Janet Larquier, Karen Mills, Louise Sheaffer and Junior Eileen Clancy returned from last year, while Juniors, Irma Rodriquez, Mary Thompson and Sophomore Mimi Lennon joined the team. Coached again by Jody Davidson, the team had many victories.



Closing the season with five wins and two losses (Corvallis, Louisville), the girls took second place in their league. St. Mary's Tournament brought a consolation prize and the girls went on to defend their AAU National Prep title in Cleveland, Ohio.

The JV team showed much promise with an identical record (5-2) and a second place in the league.

Intramurals Prove Successful

Intramurals this year, was a big success but warball was a bigger one, as usual. Headed by John Starlin and Tony Martinez, the games entertained students and faculty for almost two months.

Some outstanding players were: Seniors Randy Triviz, Yoshi Takahashi, Brian O'Rourke and Chester Nachtwey, Juniors Mike Festa, Phil Wroblicky, Steve Mackin and Frank Lucero, Sophomores Dennis Oakley, Dan Beringhele, Angelo LaBarbera and Jim Spallino, Freshmen Will Pierce, Larry Rohas, Bob Rooke and John St. Clair.

The competition ended in a duel between Frosh and Seniors, with Frosh becoming the champs.

Student Council Paves Road for Future Success

STUDENT COUNCIL

Under the leadership of Yoshi Takahashi, Michele Spak, Bob D'Angelo, Jonette LaBarbera, Brian O'Rourke, Marlies Paup, Gary Nitti, and Lisa Marquez, Student Council 1970-71 brought about a year of organization St. Monica will never forget.

When school opened in September, Student Council kicked off the year's social calendar with the successful Green and Gold Dance—"Sanitation Night." This dance coincided with St. Monica's first Environmental Clean-Up Drive. The Drive proved that St. Monica's students are interested in the current problem of ecology.

Homecoming activities were reorganized. Among the changes was that the entire student body voted for the Homecoming Court. This was met with popular success.

The chief aim of Student Council was to up-date the school's Constitution. Under the leadership of Student Body Presidents Yoshi Takahashi and Michele Spak, and with the help of a valuable committee, this was accomplished. One of the many changes this revision brought about was that of revoking the charter of the Council of Finance and reinstating the Students' Organization Council, to become effective in September '71.

A review of the dress code regulations, clubs, and activities were also set up during the course of the year, but the most awaited dream will become a reality when for the first time, next year St. Monica will be governed by one Student Body President. This truely has made the final link between the two departments.

Student Council may not have accomplished all of its dreams, but it has paved a better road for future successes.

Compass '71 Expands Coverage

Compass '71 provided expanded coverage on all events this year as the book had added an extra 30 pages. Homecoming is the highlight of the book with a foldout of 4 color pages. The theme and the special section in which the staff called Phase II were put into a special color stock which was also very unique. Phase II is a first at Saint Monica; with the section going through an entire school day and recording the events which took place on that day.

Better pictures and more of them are in this year's book with the photography in the book having an expenditure of about $500 this year. Hard work went into this book and what you are now reading is the result.

Editor Gives Mariner New Look

MARINER

Work on the Mariner began in advance this year. Workshops were conducted during the summer for page editors and those in charge of business.

The principle staff consisted of Anne Parada, editor-in-chief, Al DelGrosso, managing editor, and the page editors: Georgette Rowland, Annette Simons, David Spaulding, and Patty Purwin. Business was handled by Joan Nethercutt. The newspaper was typed and proofread by Rosemary Luca and Kathy Putziger.

This year The Mariner had a talented art staff headed by Claire Williams. This staff redesigned The Mariner and gave it a "new look".

The dedicated reporters, without whom there would have been no paper, were very important. Among these were Jim Kerr, Mary Sullivan, Louie Reza, and many others.

Theatrical Workshop Produces Two Successful Plays

The Theatrical Workshop is an organization which has brought students of dramatic, artistic, and technical abilities together through two dramatic productions this year. Students join the Workshop for diverse reasons; whether they be attracted to grease-paint, turn-of-the-century costumes or, as in the case of GEORGE M, tap shoes. The first of these productions was GEORGE M, the life story of the song and dance man George M. Cohan. This musical comedy proved to be a success. The workshop held their annual Christmas party which consisted of a luncheon and the showing of the movie HALF-A-SIXPENCE. The organization summed up the year with a glamorous presentation of the second annual Mini-Oscar Awards, in May. The responsibility of Workshop activities have fallen on the shoulders of officers Cyndi Fusco (President), Larry Condelli (Vice-President), Gaby DeCuir (Treasurer) and Mark Quinn (Secretary). Without the inspiration and enthusiasm that Doctor Gabriel brings out in students, the workshop would not have been able to earn the esteemed position it holds among students.

Technical Committee Proves Its Value to School

Jim Hallinan

This year, the Technical Committee has been very successful. Throughout the past years of the Committee, the organization had to struggle along on very low funds. The cost of visual and audial equipment is very high and this year the club is receiving financial aid. Only last year was the auditorium remodeled and in doing this the school had a new lighting system installed, which has made it a lot easier for the committee.

The chairman this year is Jim Hallinan. Jim has spent many hours working with Tim Mackin and Mark Mullineaux. This trio put in a temporary public address system until a permanent one can be installed. They have also installed portable strobes for the dances and completed color bars and other visual equipment.

Gary Nitti, Jim McCloskey, and Andy Halushka have also spent many hours of service at dances, recitals, and assemblies.

Theresians Establish Christian Attitude

THE THERESIANS

St. Monica's branch of the Theresians of America, though a small organization, has done a lot this year. Under the leadership of President Annette Simons, and the moderation of Sister Elise Marie, this small group of girls has worked with great determination to establish a Christian attitude among more students here at St. Monica. Contrary to what some at St. Monica think, "Future Sisters of America" is not another possible name for the Theresians. They are simply a group of young girls dedicated to promoting vocations and Christian Service.

The Theresians opened the year 1970-71 with an informal installation dinner held in September in the auditorium. In October the annual Hayride took place. There were a few changes in this traditional activity. Instead of holding it at Hansen Dam Stables, as was done in the past, the hayride was held at Woodfall Stables, and it was co-ed. A Christmas party was held in December. The Theresians of St. Monica were to hold the first high school symposium, but due to circumstances beyond control this February activity was cancelled. Other plans for this year's Theresians included a retreat, a bake sale, a Spring activity, and the final activity of the year—the installation dinner for the 1971-72 officers, which was held in the latter part of May.

FUTURE SECRETARIES ASSOCIATION
(BUSINESS CLUB)

This year St. Monica's witnessed the initiation of a new organization on campus; F.S.A. or the Future Secretaries Association. Sponsored by the National Secretaries Association, the club is open to Juniors and Seniors majoring in business. Under the guidance of advisor Sister Constance Mary, F.S.A. concerns itself with learning all the aspects of today's business world.

Formerly known as the Business Club, the F.S.A. members handle much of the parish and school duplications and mailings. Other activities throughout the year included a booth at the Ice Cream Social, initiation of new members, guest speakers, a fashion show and a Christmas party.

The F.S.A. has chosen the owl for its mascot. Its colors are green and gold and its motto is simply--service.

Although F.S.A. is a new club, it already has proven to be a credit to the school.

1970-71 Library Aides

LIBRARY AIDES

Although sometimes taken for granted, the library aides make up an important part of St. Monica's Library staff.

These students perform such duties as reading shelves, shelving and checking out books. Sometimes the library aide will do the work of a regular librarian, such as looking up the prices of various books.

Our library aides take great pride in the duties they perform. Being a library aide teaches the student the fundamentals of a library and gives practice in looking up reference materials.

The Library staff is always ready to welcome more aides, and the students who give up their free study periods for Library Assistance soon find the time worthwhile. A great deal of satisfaction and pride is derived from helping the Library up-to-date and order.

The Library aides work in twos or in singles, and learn responsibility through their work.

In the future, we hope to have more aides so that they can profit from the knowledge and fun of knowing good books and the library.

The 1970-71 Varsity Cheerleaders

Members of the Student Body:

We would like to thank all the sports participants for making our year of cheering a most happy and memorable one. Our combined work and effort taught us to appreciate the hours of practice that entails each one of the sports at Saint Monica's High School. Also we are very grateful to all the students and parents who attended the games throughout this year. May you never lose your spirit!!!

Sincerely yours,

French Proves To Be Active

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, under the direction of President Kathy Buniff, once again proved to be one of the more active clubs. Le Cercle Français celebrated Halloween with a masquerade party, Christmas with a night of caroling, and Freshman Orientation with a welcome party. The success of these activities can be attributed to happy and involved members. The club offers two field trips and ends with an election banquet for which the members prepare French cuisine.

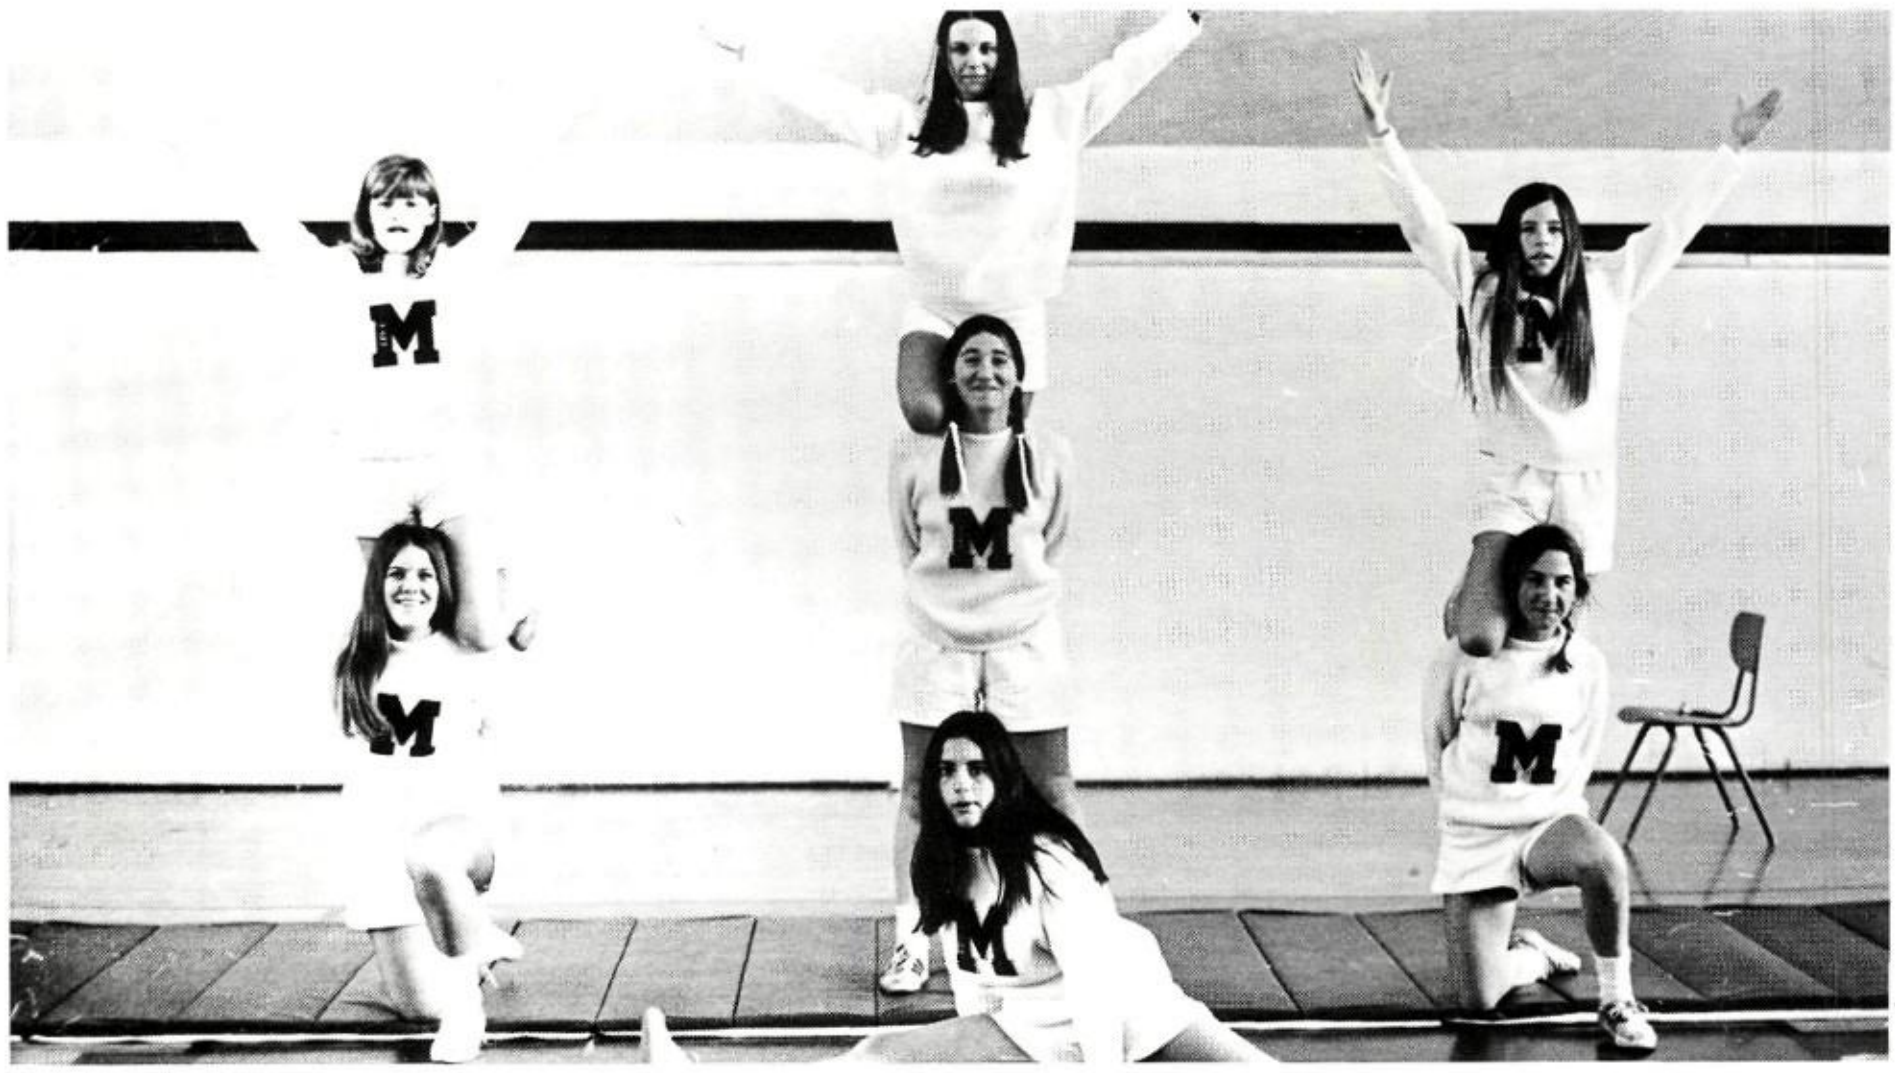
1970-71 French Club

Team Members: Captain–Theresa McGuirk; Co-Captain–Sharon Reyes; Kathy Lindauer, Tammy Margott, Kathy Jacobs, Patty McGuirk, Tina Halushka, Julie Lynch.

The gymnastics team formed two years ago under Mrs. Gunn and then again under Mrs. Burton. But this year's team had a few problems at the start but we made it through the year. The team performed during Half time activities at football games and a special performance at Hi-Jinx. Even though the team was fairly new with the exception of one person, their talents were well displayed and add a touch that enabled Saint Monicas to hold its own with other larger schools.



Band Provides Entertainment

Mr. Keith Williams, who has been with the band since its beginning, left this year to take office as the President of the Musicians' Union. In his place, a new director, Mr. Kenneth Richmond, was hired. Since then the band has taken on a new aspect of not just entertaining, but also of learning.

The band has taken part in the traditional Christmas program, and has played at the home football games. They have also provided music for the Homecoming Coronation and the Homecoming game.

This year has been one of great change for the band, and next year proves to be just as exciting.

The officers of the band this year were President Joan Nethercutt; Vice President Joe Henschel; and Secretary Andrea Wood.

Pep Club Leads School Spirit

The PEP CLUB started off the year with high hopes. This organization was going to revive the school with the "spirit" which it had lost through the years, but as time moved on, the Pep Club met a lot of difficulties.

The club started off with posters plastering the school and uniforms. As time moved on, with the dying spirit of the school and helpful members, money was badly needed. With the ever helping hand of the club's moderator, Mr. Tipre, the officers revised the constitution and wrote a booklet to help future Pep Clubs.

Despite a lot of set backs, the Pep Club did accomplish a lot of things. It gave the long forgotten club back its name and set up a good basis for the future of the club.

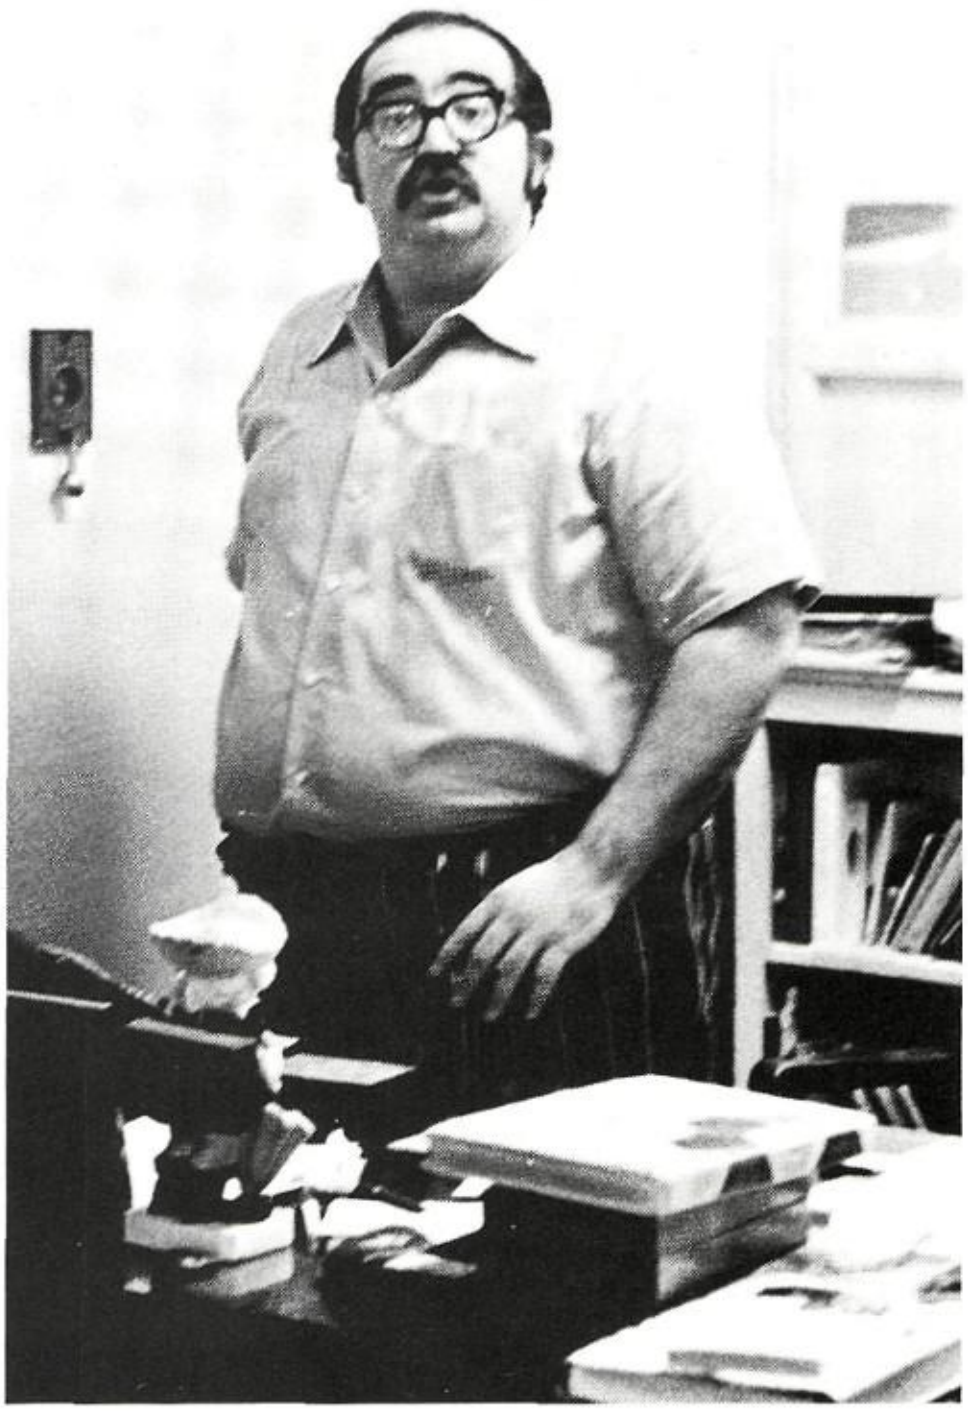
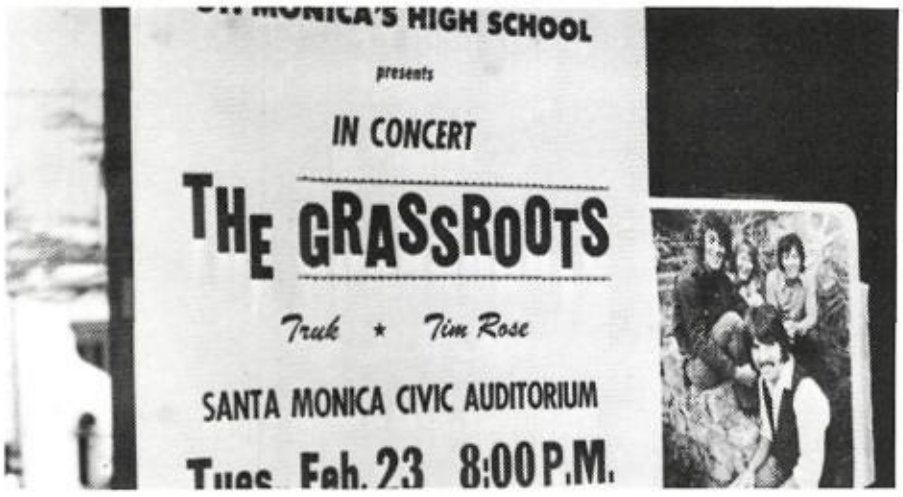
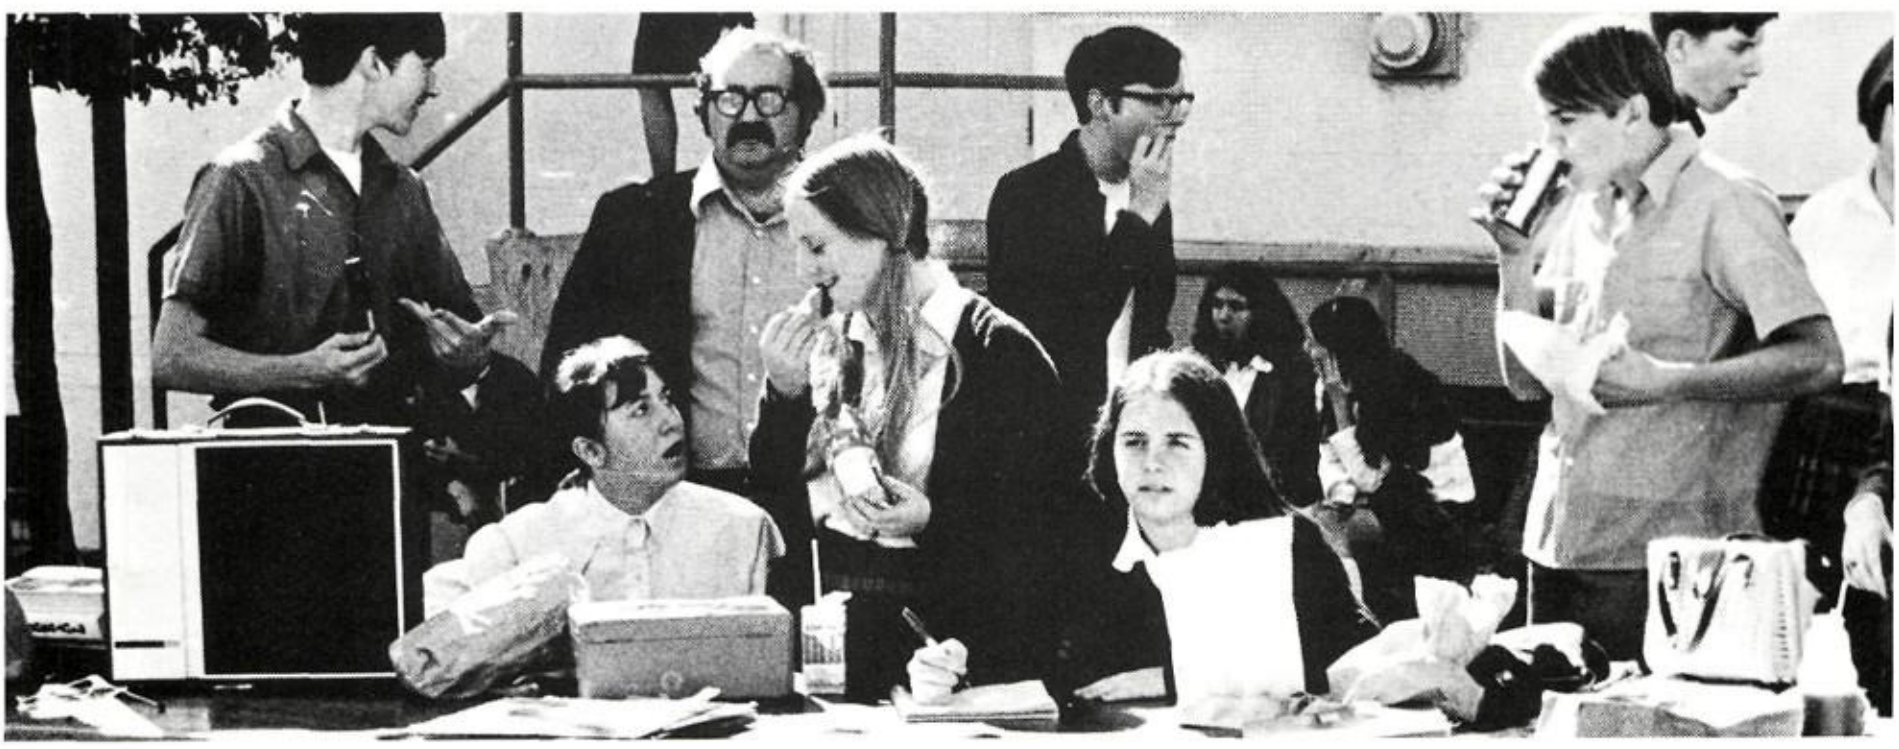
Concert, Chocolate Erase Deficit

FUND RAISING

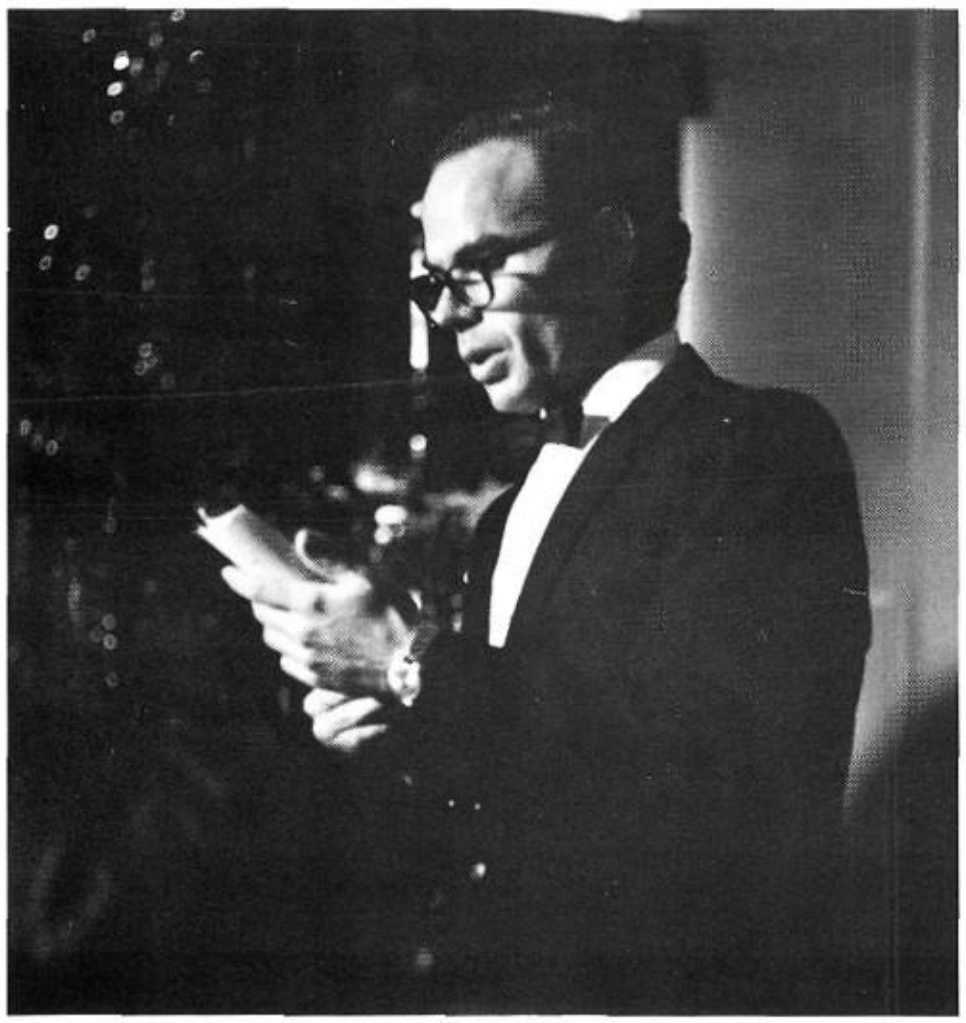
The Fund Raising committee was formed by Dr. Gabriel, Activities Director, for the very ambition expressed in its title. This committee served to create various activities for the ultimate purpose of raising funds to relieve the school's deficit. The organization was formed by students willing to give up time to work answering phones, collecting money, and trying to arouse a general attitude of interest in students. Two activities capitalized the committee's achievements. The first was a chocolate drive. The chocolate was provided by the famous Ghirardelli company, and the committee soon found that both their chocolate and financial profits were very tantalizing. Prizes from television sets to Armenian string cheese were given out as daily and final drawings. A few weeks after the conclusion of the chocolate drive, plans for the February 23 Fund Raising Concert began to take place. The organization was able to sign three exciting groups for the concert. These groups were The Grass Roots, Truk, and Tim Rose. A dinner for the performers and members of fund raising was arranged a few hours before the concert. Other activities during the year were promising in planning and profitable in the results. The Fund Raising Committee, under the guidance of Dr. Gabriel deserve acknowledgement and praise for their efforts and accomplishments during the year.







Chorus Performs in Successful Xmas Program



CHORAL

Choral is a two-fold activity: a class and an organization which many students enjoy. To those who enjoy music, the class is an "oasis" in a long hectic day. To those who enjoy performing in various programs, the organization is their best bet. The choral members sing for their own pleasure as well as for the pleasure of others.

Two programs were presented this year that served as an example of how much the choral enjoys what it does. The first of these was the Christmas performance, in which the choral performed such novel songs as "The Twelve Days of Christmas", and traditional Christmas songs as "Silent Night." The closing song was "The Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's MESSIAH. The second performance of the choral was the traditional Spring Sing, in which some songs were acted out as was "On A Wonderful Day". The choral, in keeping with their set tradition, sang the beautiful "Exodus", and also paid tribute to past Senior class plays.

Officers this year were President Connie Wright, Vice-President Anne Parada, Secretary-Treasurer Claire Williams, and Head Librarian Carrie-Lou Bottorff. These officers worked with great determination with Sister Mary Dolora, the dedicated moderator of the choral.

Assisting Sister Dolora this year were Miss Mary Ruth Woods and Mr. Orr, who were both a great addition to our Choral. The dedicated work of all concerned helped to make this year wonderfully successful for the choral.

Lettermen Become Service Organization

The Lettermen's Club this year shook the reputation of being solely athletically orientated and became a service organization. Under the leadership of Rick Herrera, the club's president, the lettermen participated in school functions and activities. The club co-sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance with the G.A.A. and also served as ushers at all home basketball games. Concession stands which were set up at the games netted much profit.

Wine and Candelight, a fund raising dinner, proved to be a big success, with the lettermen being the waiters for the affair. The money from the dinner went to the school to make up the deficit which arose at the end of the year.

In December, the club began its first personal activity, Initiation. Initiation was different from previous in that no signs were worn and anything which was degrading was not allowed. Plebes were instructed to sit together at lunch time and an entertaining initiation did occur. Over Christmas vacation plebes were given plans to construct paddles for their overseers. On their return to school each plebe had to perform an act which was constructive towards the school. The initiation was very successful in "weeding out" athletes who would not live up to the caliber of the club.

Other members of the executive board are Dave Whitley, Brian O'Rourke, and Rick Heard.

G.A.A. Holds Largest Membership on Campus

This year, G.A.A., under the direction of Miss Davidson, got off to a great start. The officers: Louise Sheaffer, President; Mary Thompson, Vice-president; Carrie-Lou Bottorff, secretary; Marti Haro, points secretary and Janet Larquier all helped to make the activities worthwhile.

At the G.A.A. Spread, the varsity and JV volleyball teams were announced and the annual Get Acquainted Day proved to be a success.

The volleyball teams showed that they could retain last year's title, winning a few firsts and seconds in tournaments. With the help of the G.A.A., the varsity team traveled to Cleveland, Ohio to defend their national title.

In preparation for Hi-Jinx, the class basketball teams were chosen. Then all classes commenced work on their skits for Hi-Jinx, to take place on February 26. All of the hard work put out by the classes made it a great success, and the work seemed well worth the reward.

During the later part of the year, the G.A.A. began taking suggestions for a Spring activity, to take place in the near future.

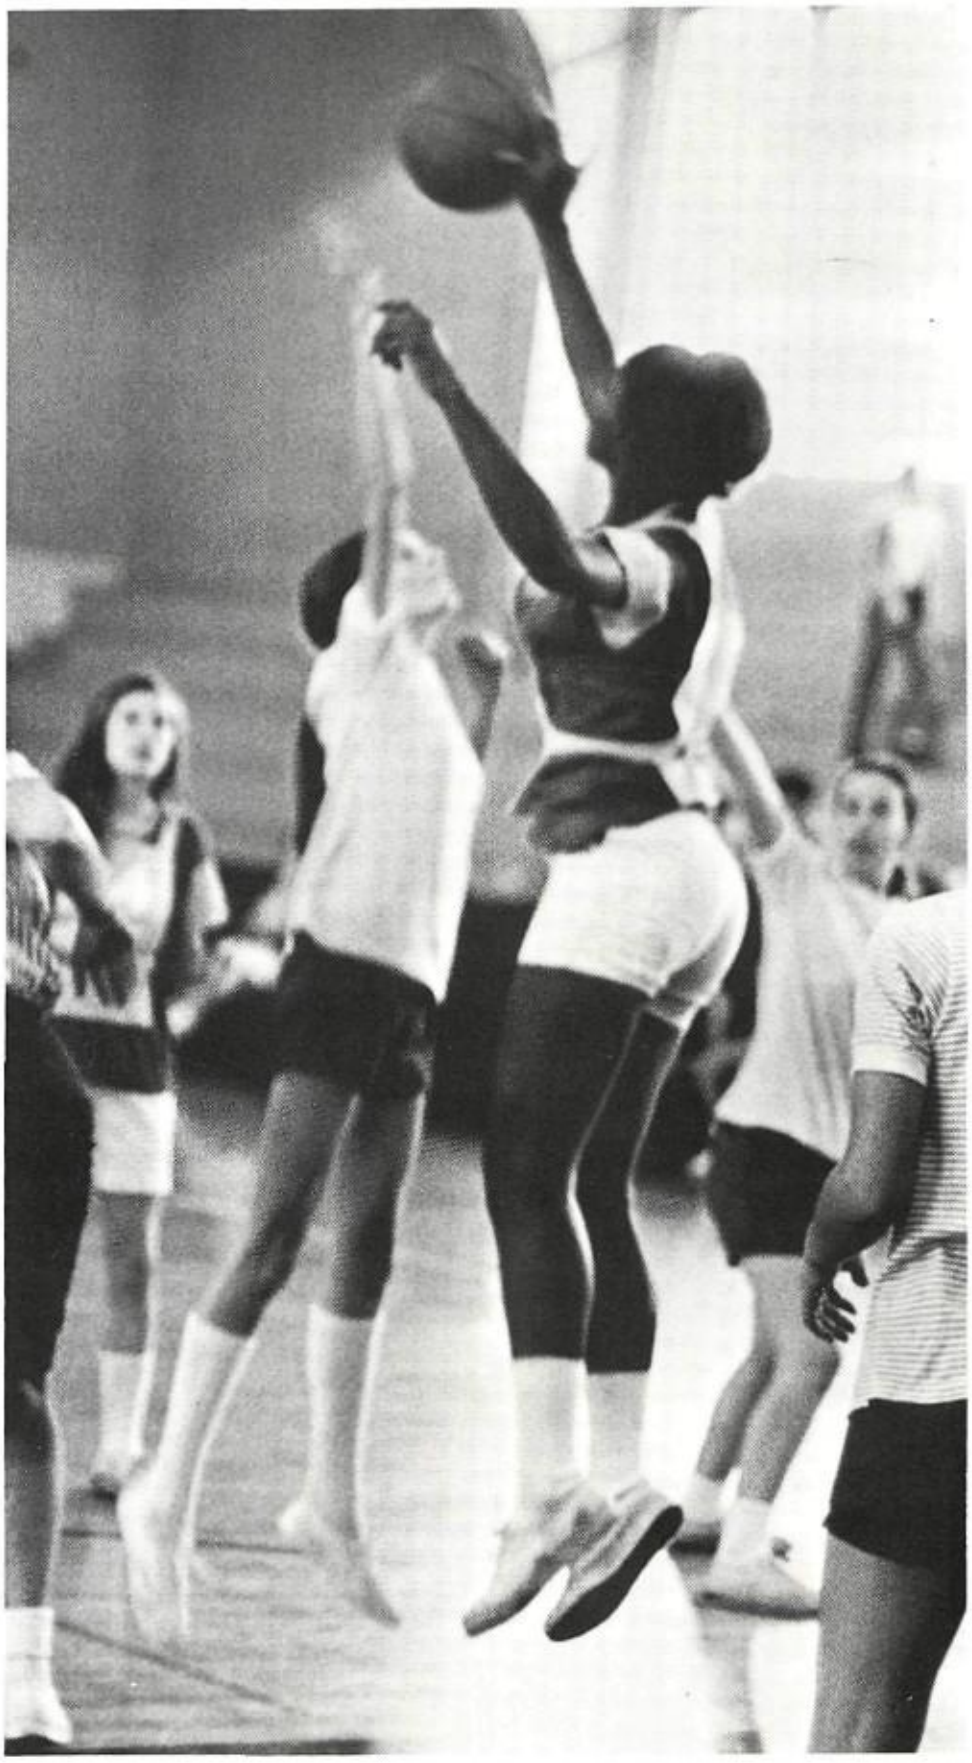
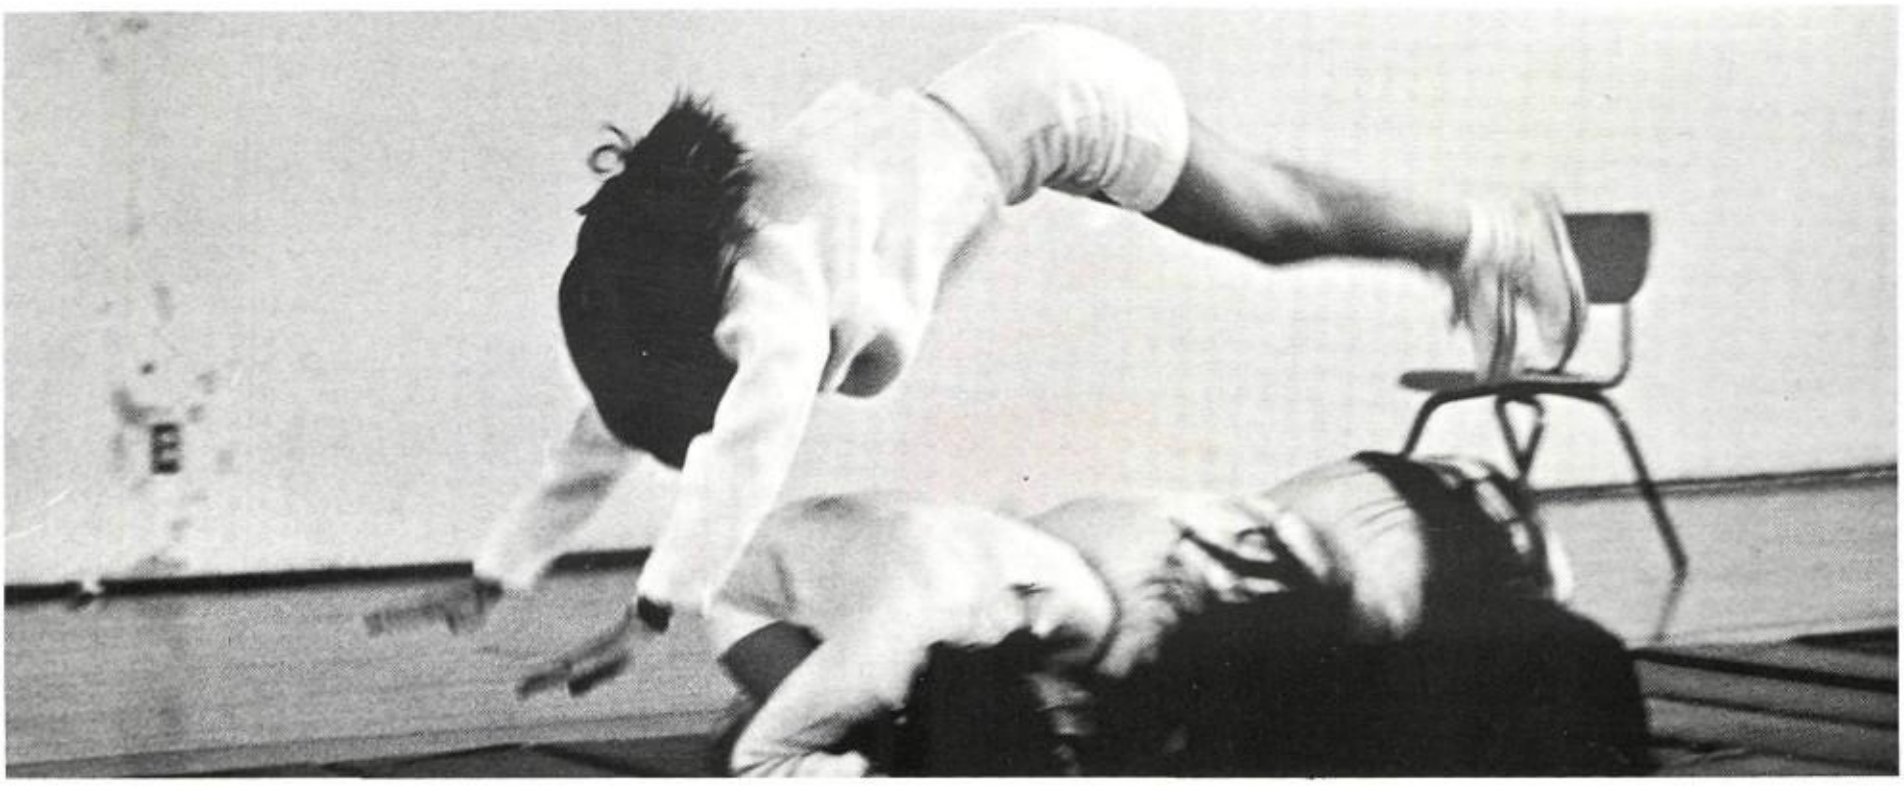
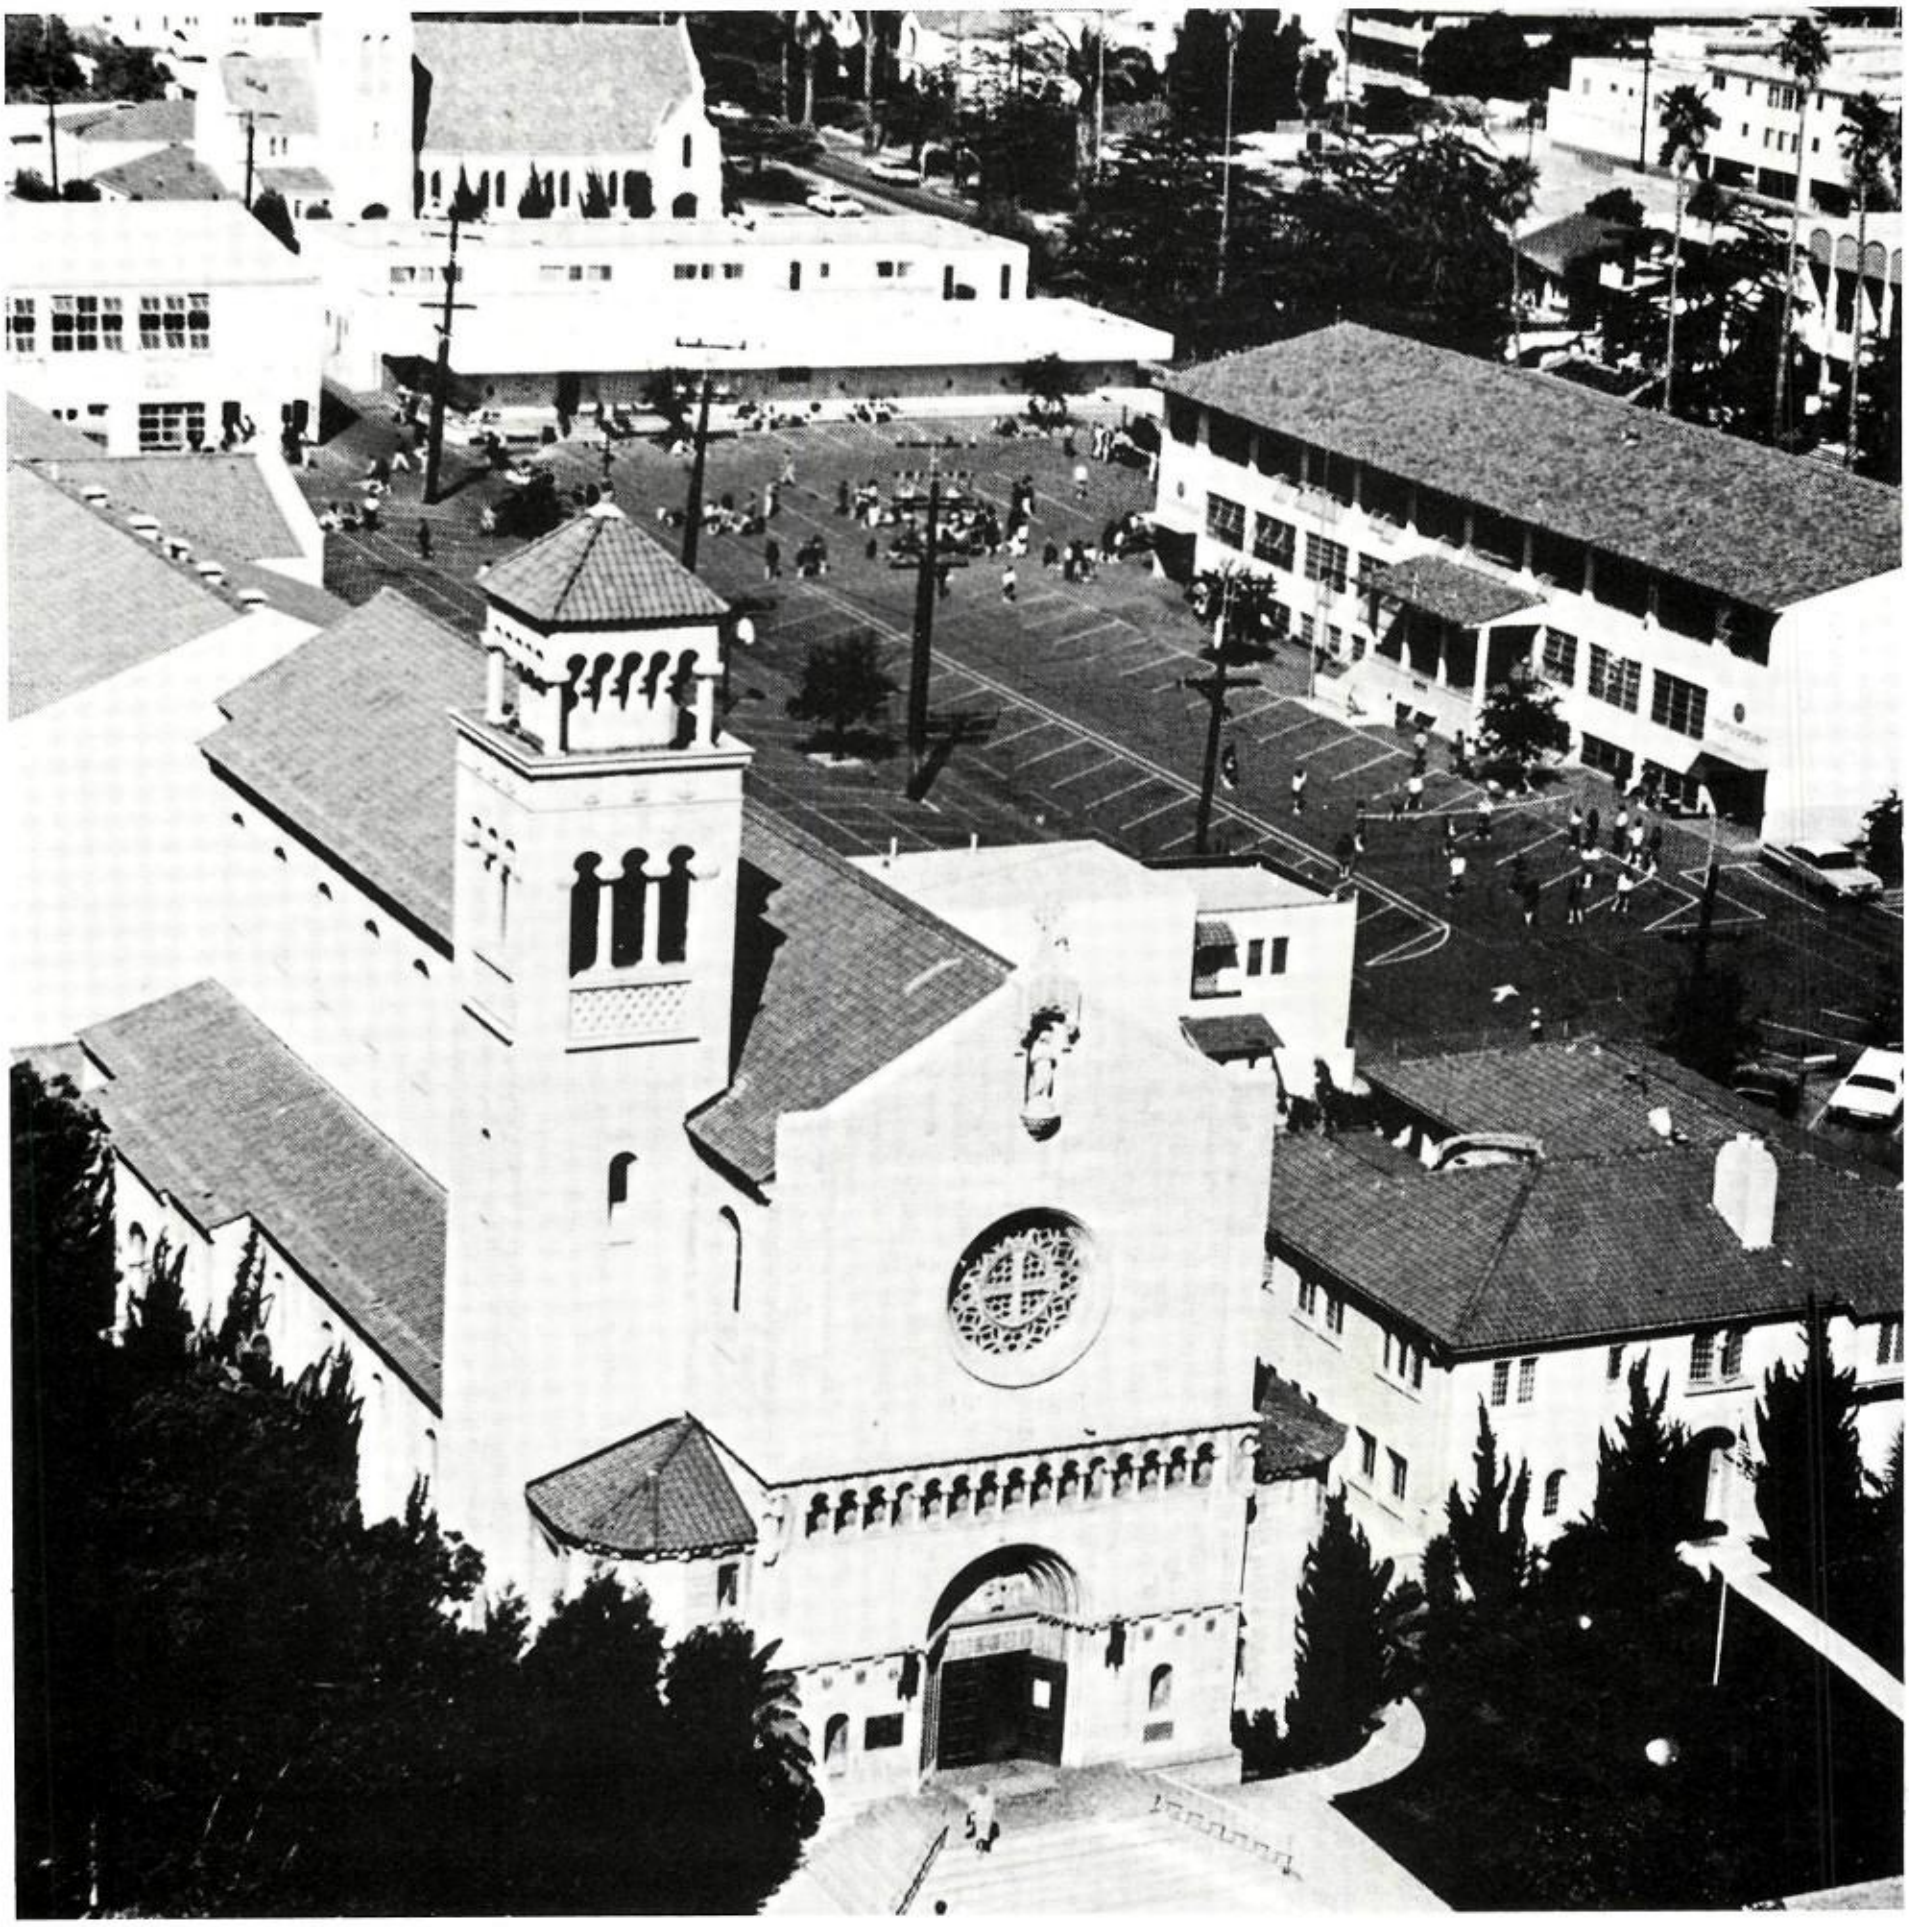
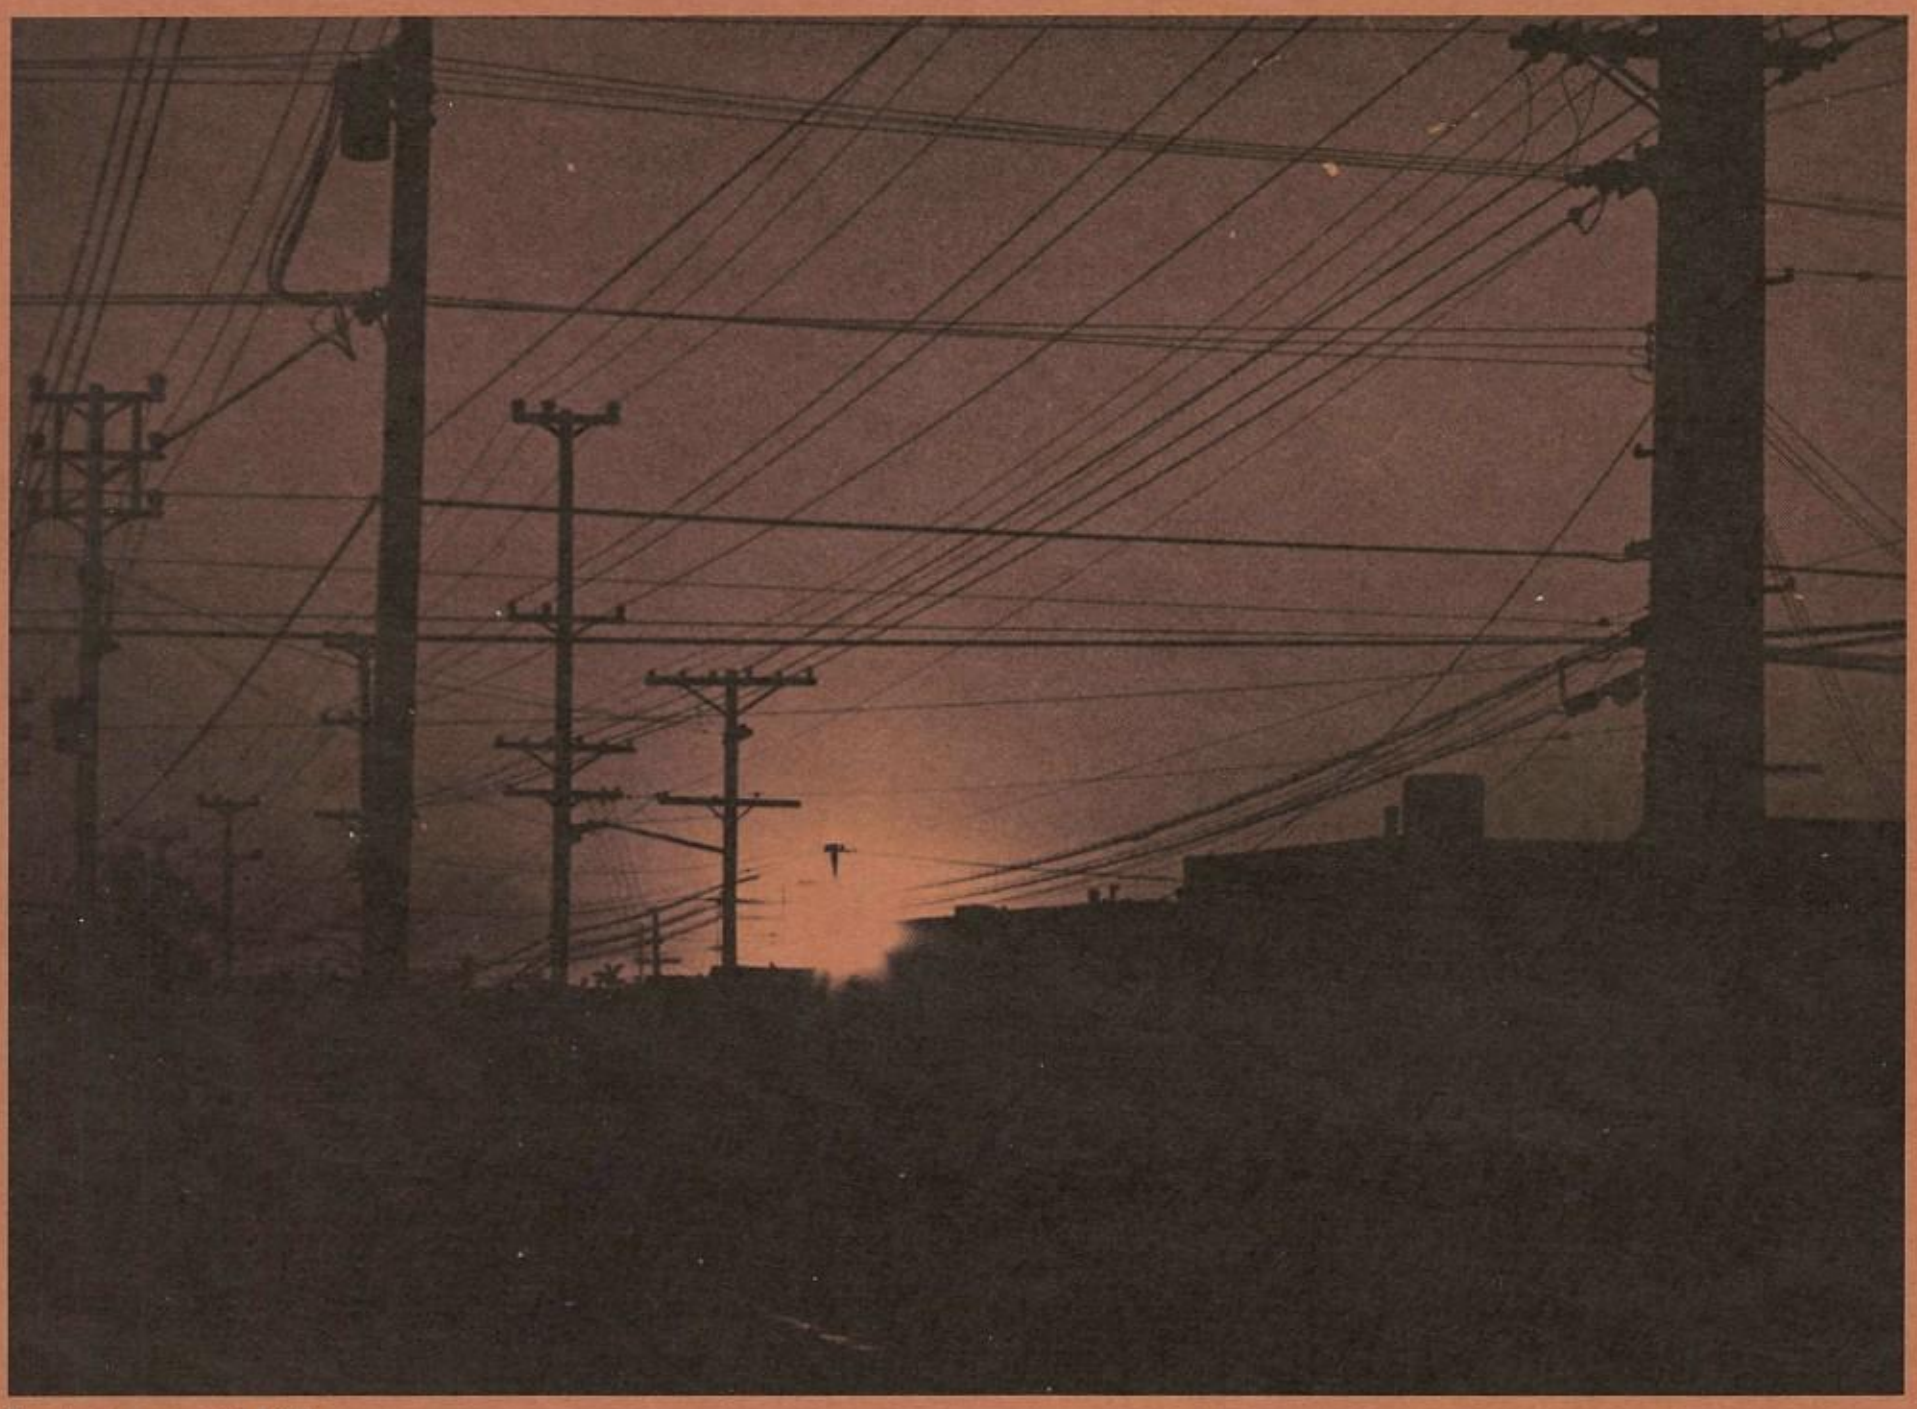
The 1970-71 G.A.A.







St. Monica High School

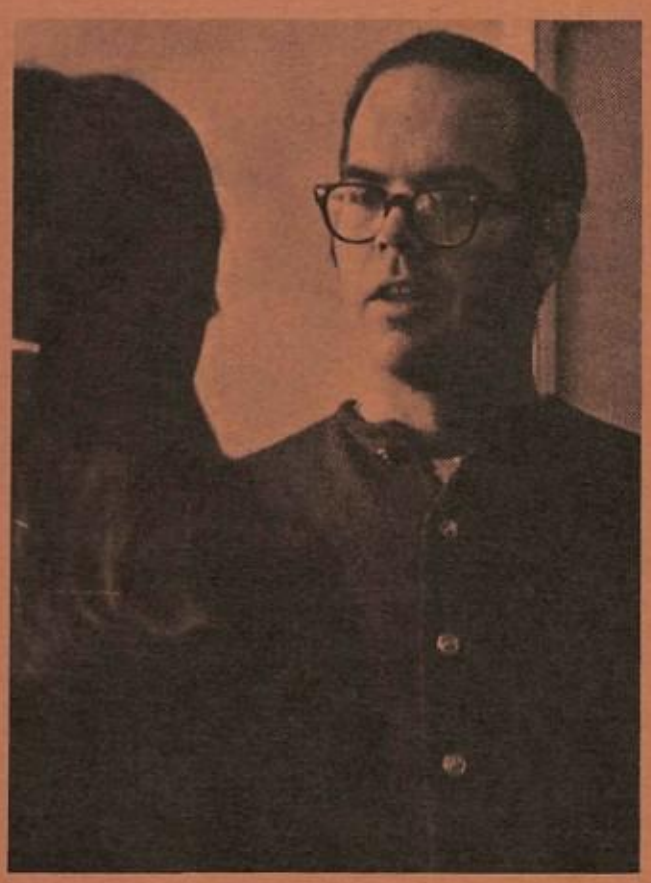


Sunrise, January 22, 1971

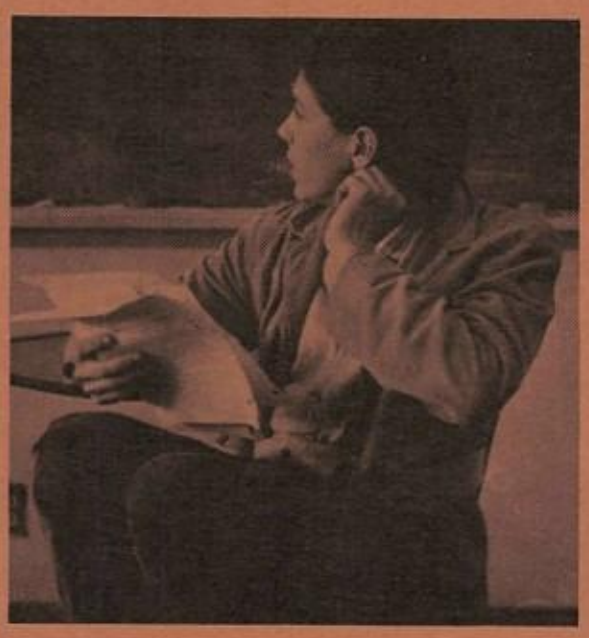
A new day begins. The hands of time have swept the face of the clock. Rays of caramel sunlight stretch swiftly across the pastel horizon. Reaching as far as you can see, and farther. As if to deny the fact that darkness of night had ever been.

Thoughts of the new day fill your mind. Thoughts of school, friends, and ideas cluster in confused bunches in the back of your mind. If you're lucky, thoughts of love . . . good or bad, lost or found, happy or cruel. What matters is that you have these thoughts. A new day begins.

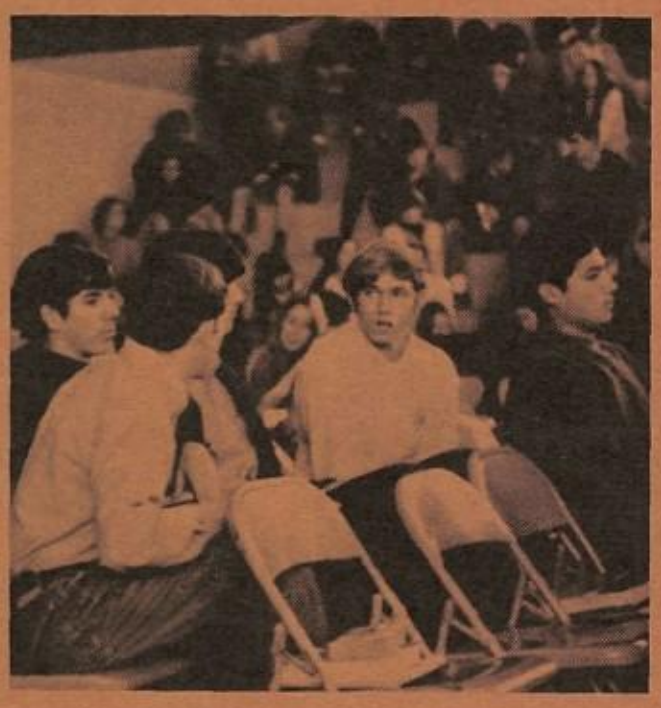
As you enter the school yard, your eyes are flooded with a blue sea of pleated skirts: some wrinkled, some pressed, some long ones on short girls, and some short ones on tall girls. The different groups of friends fall into their places like a giant jigsaw puzzle. Conversations bubble on. The bell rings.

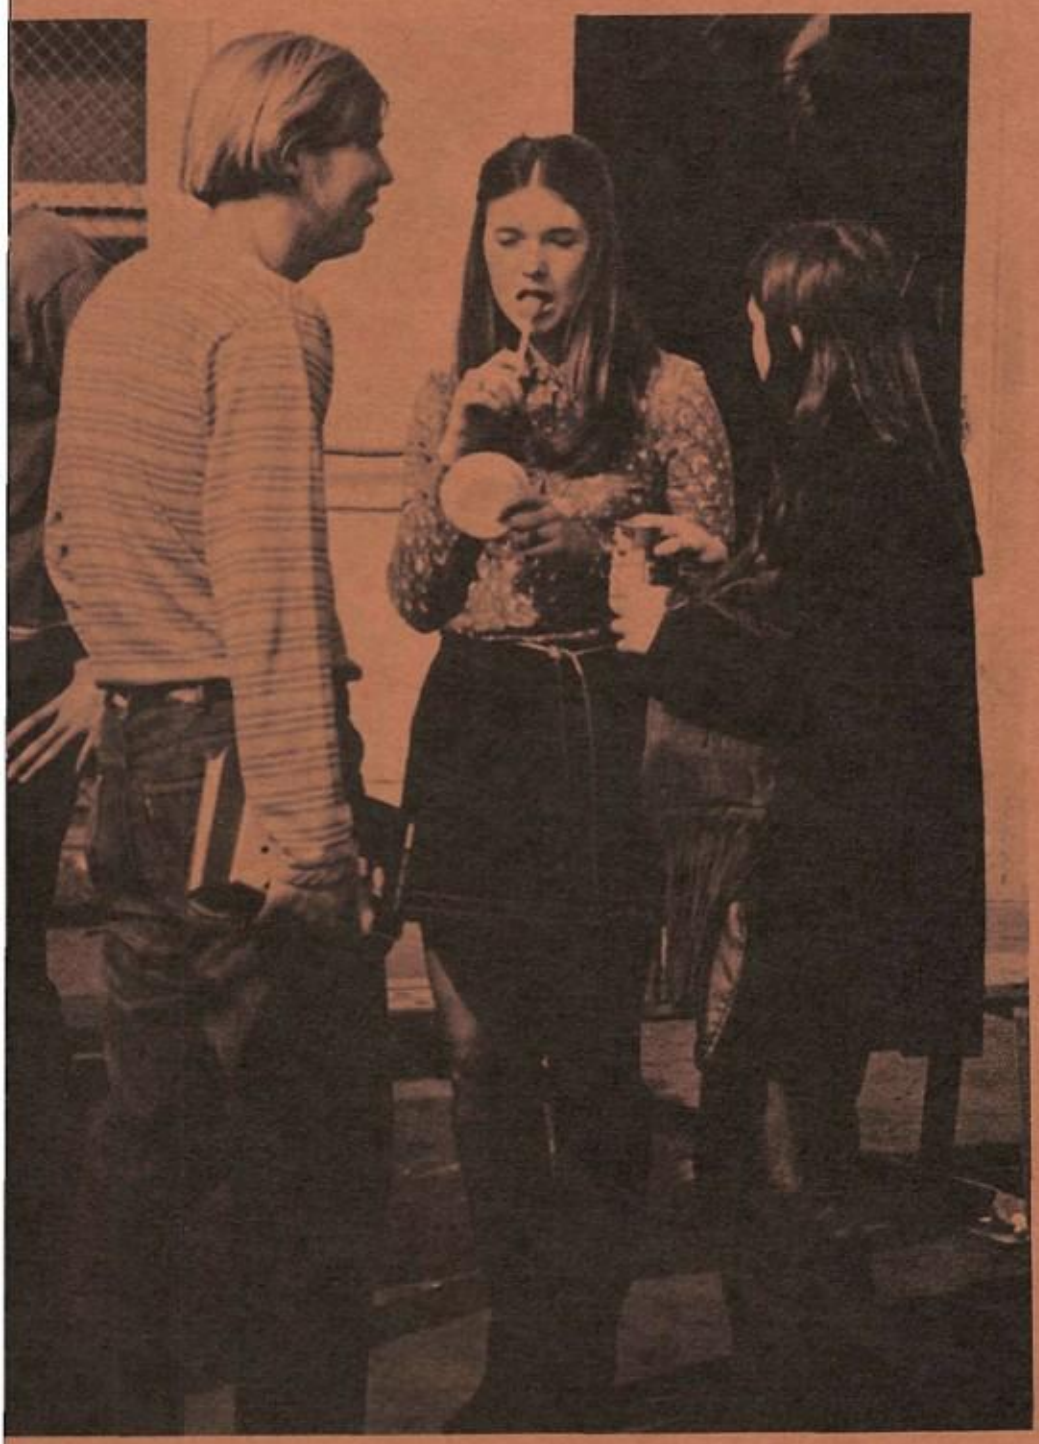


The first four periods of classes slip by. Sleep by for some. They usually seem the longest, but today is Friday and everything speeds up to a faster pace.



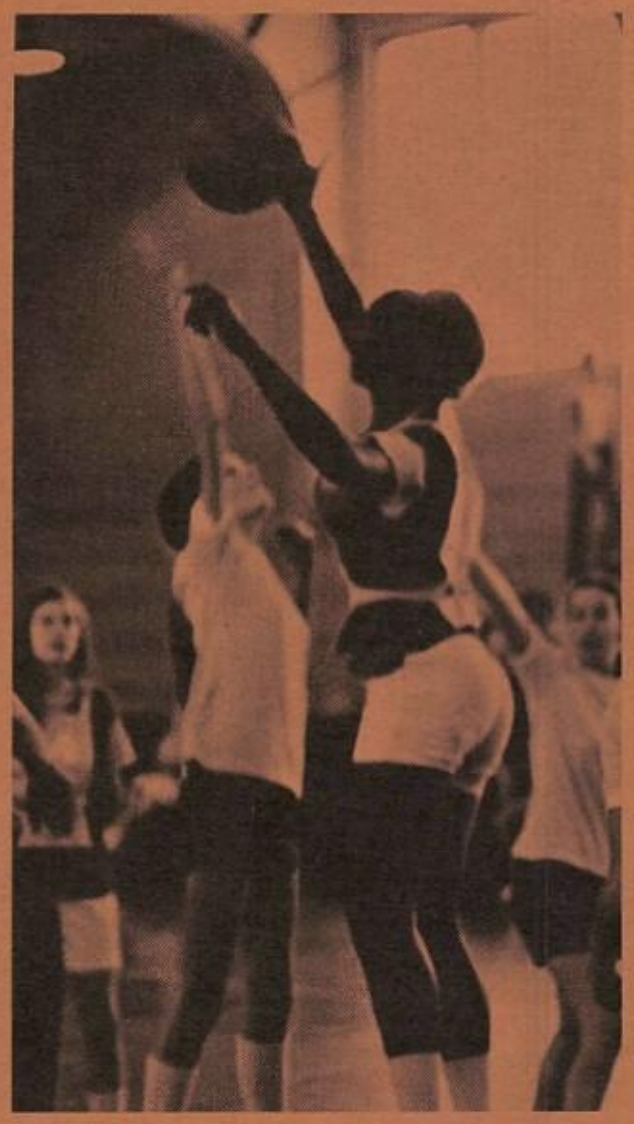
Activity period begins. This means the long caterpillar line of students squeezes its way into the gym. Once roll call places are filled, the formal meeting begins. Voices over the Public Address system boom hauntingly through the gymnasium bleachers. Several speeches are made as the atmosphere becomes one of interest. When the assembly ends, the students anxiously await to be dismissed by classes. By now your department of your interior makes no qualms about growling for lunch.

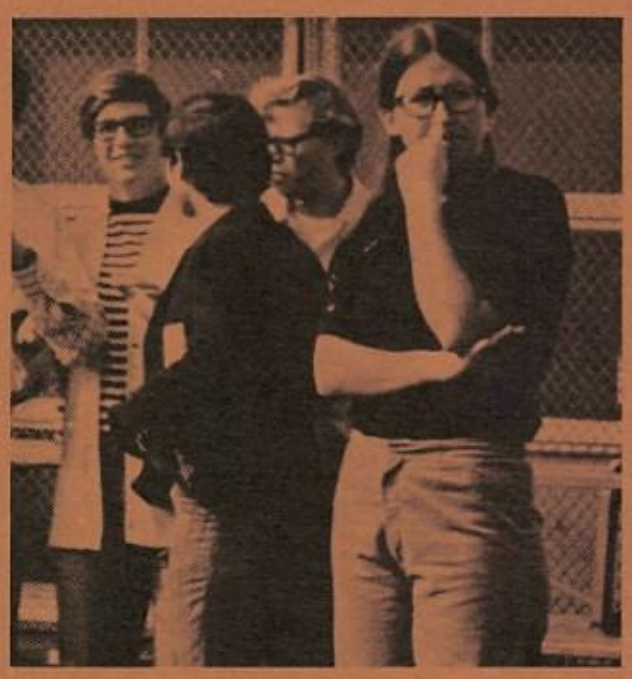


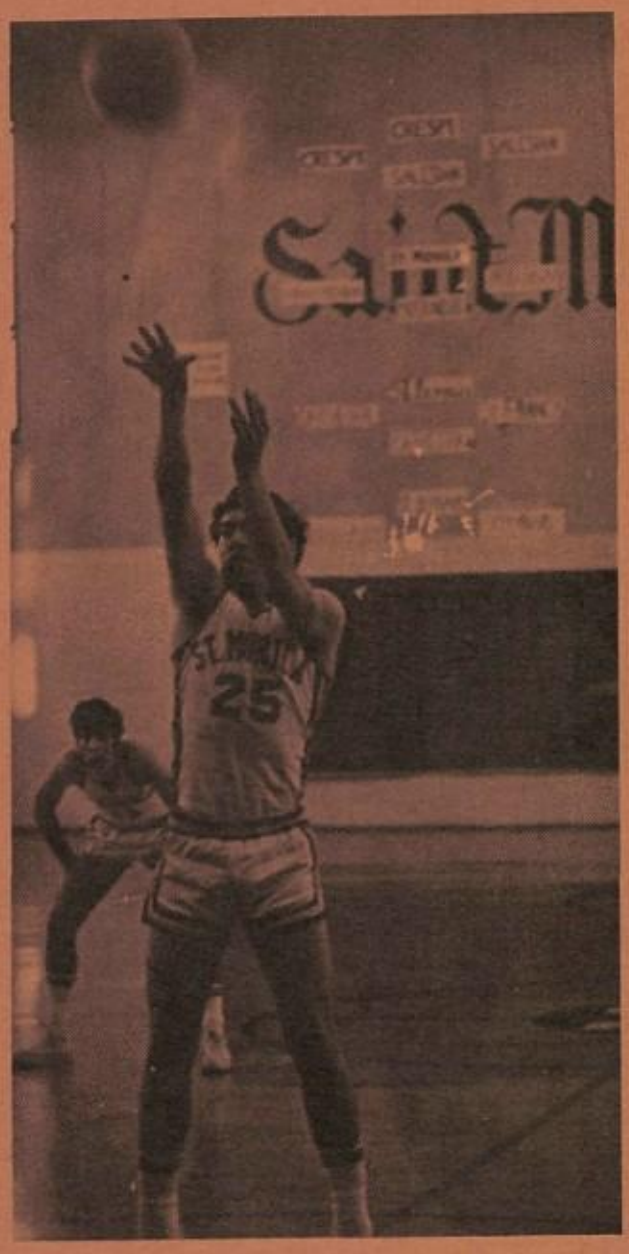


Lunch. A cherished word in the vocabulary of a student. A quick dash to the food truck for a bean burrito. Groups of friends find a shady spot on a sunny day or a dry spot on a wet day. Some use their lunch period to eat, some to play warball, and others cram for a sixth period test. The forty-five minutes whiz by with unbelievable speed and swiftness. The villain bell rings.

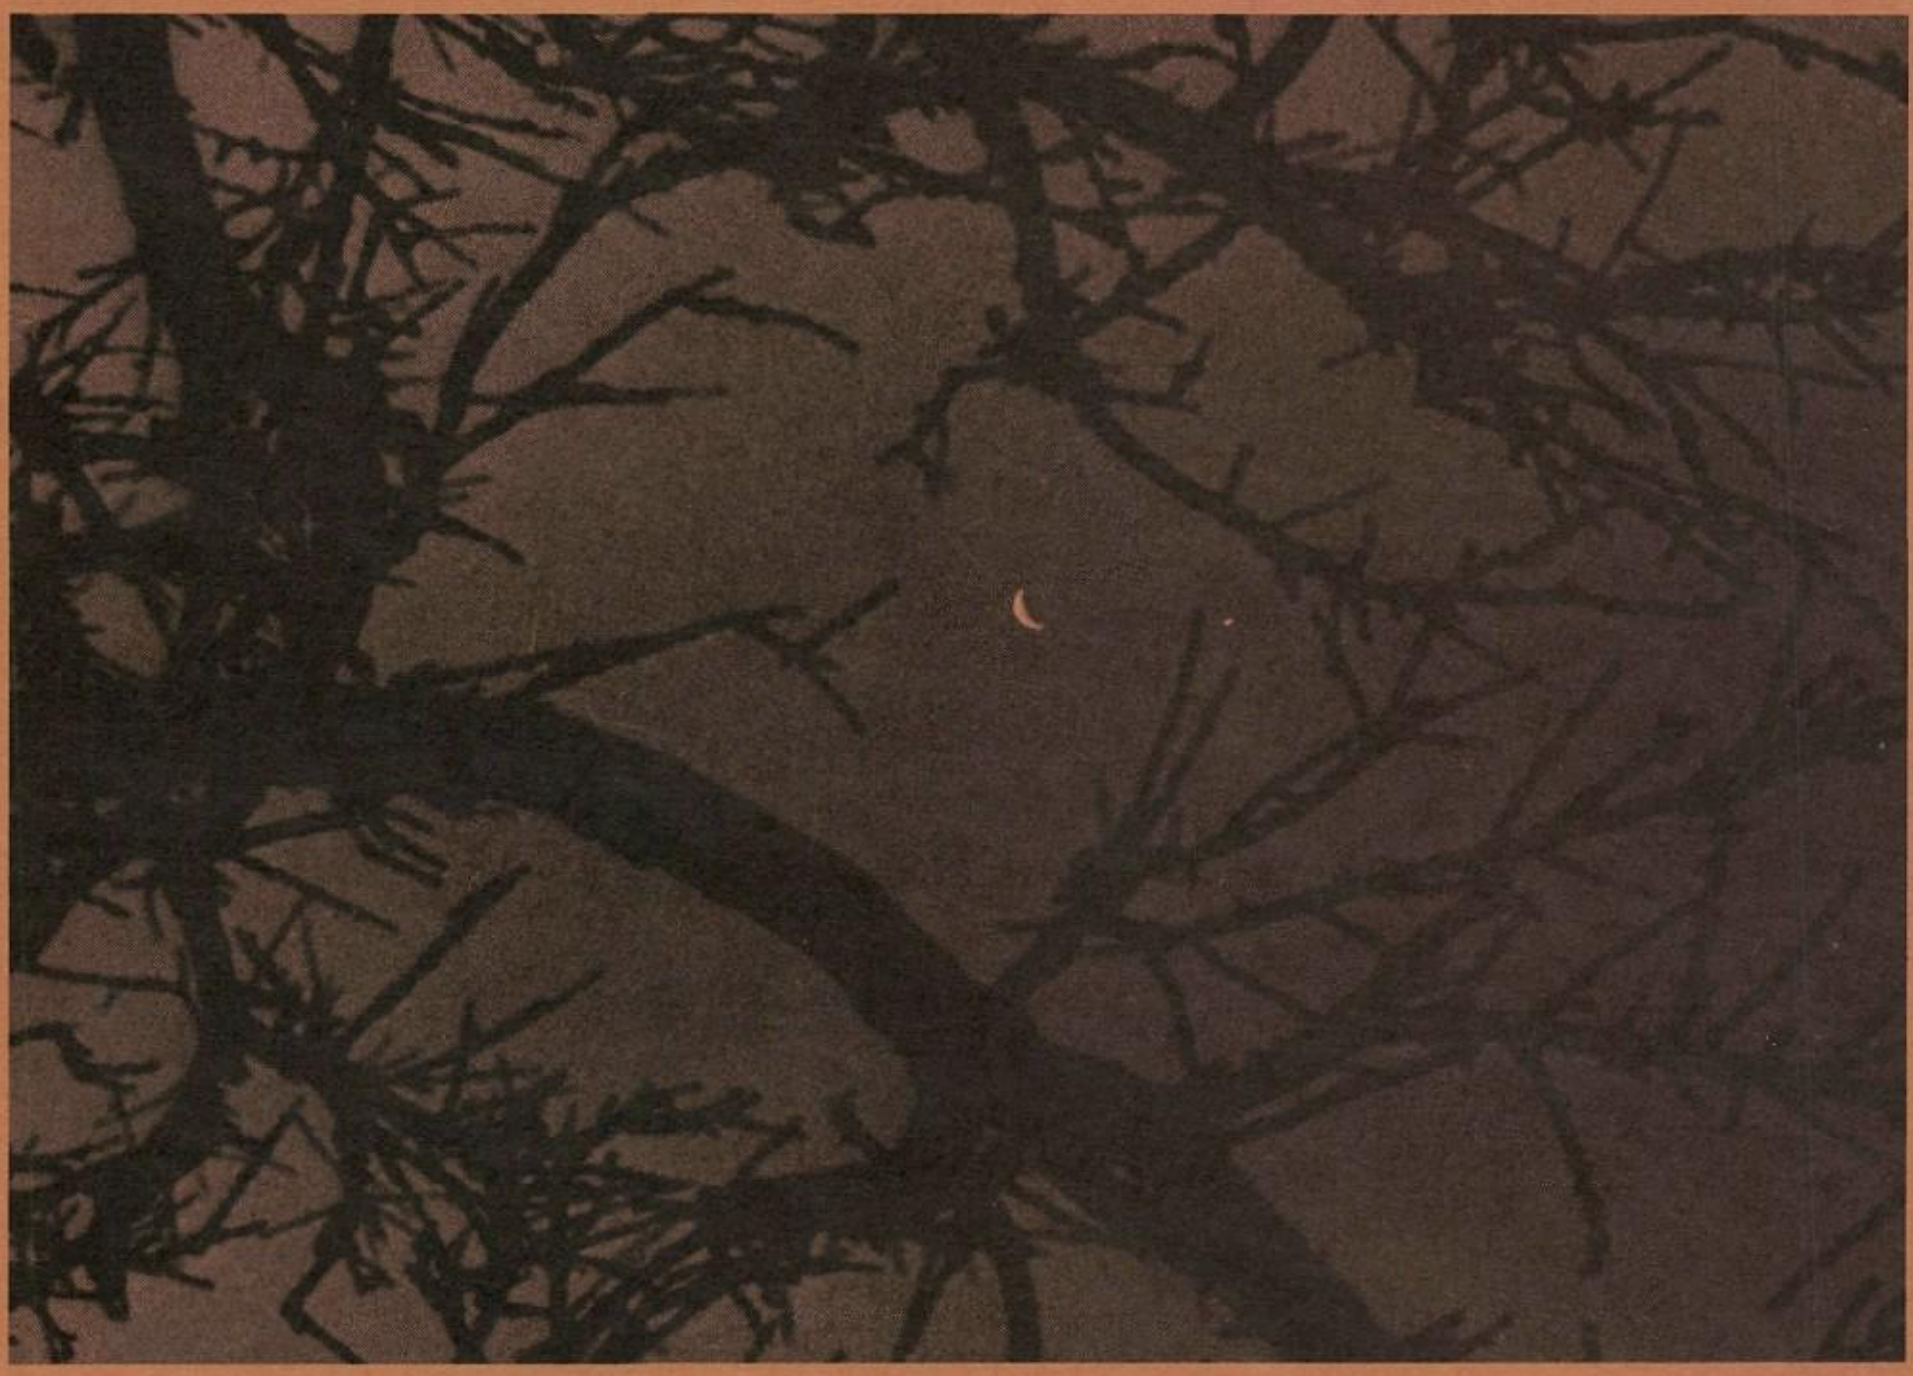
When the bell rings at 2:05, as classes are dismissed for the day, it is no longer a villain, but a bell of good tidings. The banging of over-stuffed lockers, the crowded hallways, and familiar faces soon fade away. The empty halls echo with the lonely sounds of the janitor and his broom. Outside students linger on. Boys shoot a few baskets. Girls spray paint Pep Club signs for the basketball game and sock-hop tonight.







You're back after dinner. The gym swells with shouting and excitement as the game progresses. Lights are blinding, the score promising and the brash buzzer reminds the players of the time. The game is over. Lights are dimmed. Couples appear arm-in-arm. The Band begins to play loudly. Dancers speckle the floor where a few minutes ago athletes were giving the best physical years of their lives. One team had lost. One had won. The sock hop ends.



A soft jumble of goodnights are muttered as the crowd empties into the parking lot. The moon stands as a silver witness while the burgundy curtain of night closes in on the thoughts of the day. The sands of the hourglass have slipped by without a sound. If we try to grasp hold of this fleeting Time we only become violently aware that there will never be another today. Our hope lies within the boundaries of our tomorrows.

The Class of

Where can I begin
The Beauty or the Hate
The Understanding
When you're scared
Always someone there
To remind you that they care—
The sharing the giving of one's self
Because someone needs you,
Someone else,
The satisfaction that you get
When you make a person smile
Having as your thanks
That person's friendship,
Knowing all the while
That if you ever needed any care
You wouldn't have to search too far
Because it will always be right there!
AH PEOPLE Such wonderful parts of life
Making the world everything it is Good and Bad, Love and Hate
The Old, the Young, the Plastic, the Straight starting wars trying to make peace.
Having good intentions, sometimes falling through
And when the world gets down sometimes
We take another look and realize
It's up to you,
And me and them
To pick it up and lay it down
And begin to put it together again.
And there will be those who kill
And hate their fellow man
Who are greedy and selfish and Get everything they can.
The ignorant and proud
The mighty and cruel
They're just as much part of this
Me and You.
Without them we wouldn't
Appreciate the Goodness
We have
And as we know
There is always something good.
We could bring it out in
These people
If we really wanted to.
I believe in people they're really
All I've got, and to All of you
You are part of Me,
And I love you all.
Together We.
We can build our world and let it be
Peaceful and free
AH PEOPLE
Where can I begin
For there will always be a beginning
And never an end.
So I won't finish this
I'll just call you all my friends.

"Youth is wasted on the young"
or so I've heard it wisely said and the many times I've turned to disagree
now begin to fade
so many times
love takes it hard,
misused, put down
and beaten not knowing
we abuse its beauty
until it becomes old and stale
like children
with a brand new toy
we play with love
until it's broken
and then toss it aside
with other forgotten joys forgetting the happiness it brought we now look onward towards more important things
money, fame, position,
power, authority
now play a role in our lives and looking back on sweet love gone by
we give up on reaching out to what is right within our grasp,
but is it really so far away?

La La How the Life Goes on . . .

Growing together, Living together Sharing, Caring, Blossoming together . . .

The Class of

Sometimes you think you know.
For brief moments the knowledge is imprisoned in your mind.
The ultimate answer has finally been attained.
You're happy, relieved, unburdened
What a disillusion. What an utter disillusion.
You wake up the next morning and it's gone.
Disappeared, vanished, escaped from the inescapable cell.
You want to cry
It means starting all over.
All over from the very beginning.
Retracing everything you've done only going further still.
Far beyond what you had thought the limit
Setting a new boundary in the vast destiny of the unknown
It begins to look like an external cycle.
Something you'll probably be doing for the rest of your life.
Finding . . . losing . . . searching . . . finding . . .
But you must realize that you will inevitably lose—and quite frequently for how else will our horizons extend beyond the sun?

The Class of

"We are out to challenge a brave new world, a world we have to conquer by knowledge. We are no longer sheltered by the wings of our mothers, we must learn to be on our own, just as when a baby bird learns to fly, he is on his own. So spread your golden wings, little ones, and learn to fly.
There are vast horizons to be searched, and new ideas to be thought.
There are many worlds to be explored, and countless wars to be made to peace.
Fly away and welcome.
The whole world is watching."

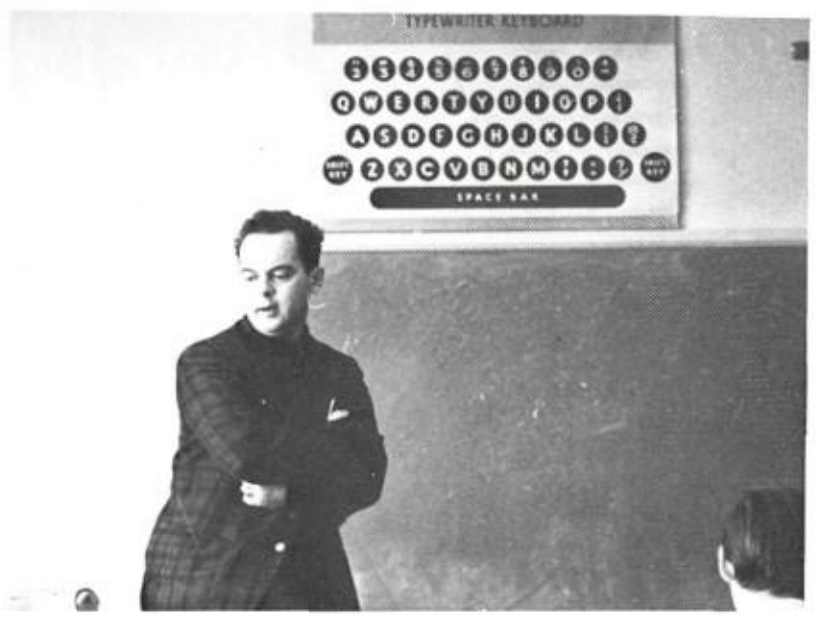
Teachers and Administration



Administration Unification Brings School Together

The administration's main goal was one of unity. Saint Monica's broke away from the traditional divided system of administration which had been in use since the beginning of the school. Previously, there had been two separate principals; one for the boys and another for the girls. These two jobs were merged in to one and Sr. Michaeline Mary became the school's new principal. Miss Annette Shamey and Mr. Michael Bradley became Saint Monica's Vice-Principals. Two Deans of Students were necessary. The Girl's Dean was the energetic (a vital quality needed for her position) Sister Delores, who was a newcomer to the school. The position of Dean of Boys was held by Mr. Altobelli, coach of the Varsity football team at Saint Monica's. Since activities play such an important role in student life, a new and special office was created. Doctor Lawrence Gabriel undertook the new job, becoming Saint Monica's first Dean of Activities. Sr. Winifred was Dean of Studies and therefore was the organizer of student academics. Mr. Thomas Kissane acted as athletic director by organizing the sports and heading his department.

When the new administration was put into effect, a more definite spirit of oneness was evident in student-faculty relationships. The unifications of the two departments meant simplifying file records and financial reports. A more efficient method of procedure became available. The function of the Administration is one of organization, guidance and concern with the welfare of the school. The Administration at Saint Monica has accomplished this goal.

Guidance Solves Problems

A familiar face to most of us at Saint Monica's is that of Mr. Michael Bradley, head of the Guidance Department. Mr. Bradley and his staff deal with our problems. "The student of Saint Monica's has no specific image. Each is an individual and the student body as a whole cannot be classified because of the many different students," Mr. Bradley stated. His plans for the Guidance Department include closer relationships among counselors, students, and faculty in an effort to individualize communication.

As a graduate of Saint Monica's, he feels a deep attachment to the school. He has the advantage of an insight into the needs of this high school community, and through the guidance program, he can more effectively deal with these needs.

Mr. Bradley feels, "It's better that there isn't one image of a student, it makes a more interesting school day for the teacher." This reflects his care for us as people, and his interest in us as individuals.

Miss Shamey—College Counselor.

Mrs. Johnston—Academic Counselor, 4-4 Work Experience.

Mr. Rennie—Academic Counselor.

The Never Ending Battle

OFFICE

Handling inquiries from lost octagonal eye glasses to misplaced paperclips, the Saint Monica secretarial staff took upon itself the mammoth job of coping with the daily school problems that come up with a student body of 900. With a staff of three, all clerical work, the job of keeping student files, attendance, and the problems of unpaid bills were taken on.

Mrs. Flourence Rousseve had the never ending battle with the telephone. Also included were attendance records and the constant flow of students in the main office, which made her job superhuman.

Mrs. Ione Hozman kept straight the numerous student files, typed college transcripts, and registered new students. And while this was occurring, Mrs. Salley Espey stood at her desk, keeping money problems straight, and giving directions to the poor souls who happened to wander into her office.

Mrs. Sally Espey—Treasurer.

Mrs. Hozman—Registrar, College Transcripts.

Virgina Haro turns in her fourth period attendance slips.

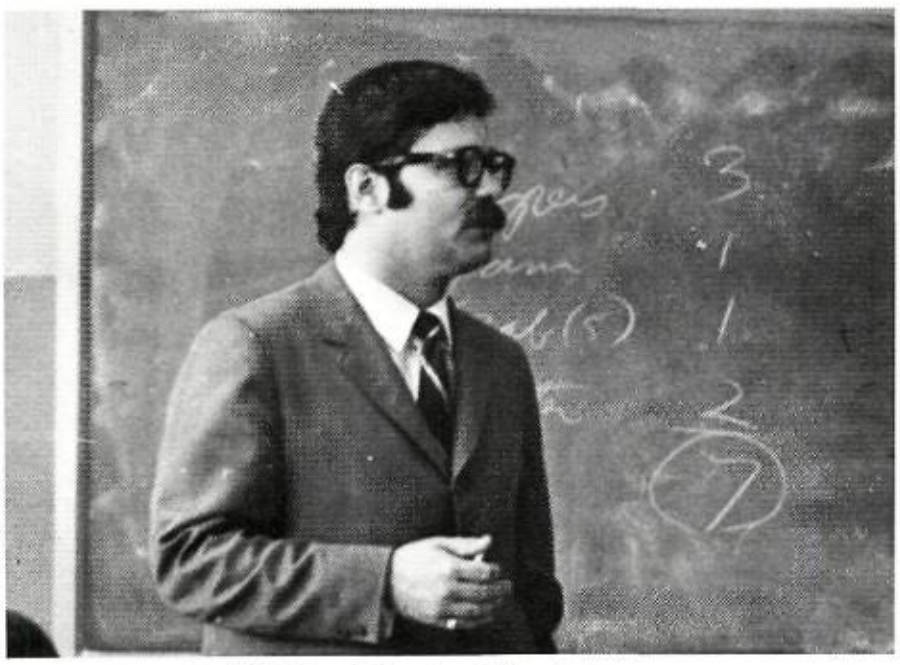
Mrs. Rousseve—Attendance, Office Secretary.

English Now an Elective Course

The English Department now has a new system for handling the curriculum. Juniors and Seniors can choose from a variety of courses ranging from Literature and Film to Philosophy in Literature. Each elective is a semester course so that each student has an opportunity to take two electives each term. A new approach in the ninth and tenth grade levels uses paperback books rather than the English textbook approach. Sister Jeanne, the department chairman, said this is a relatively new program. Apparently, both programs have been successful. Sister attributed this improvement to the fact that classes have been updated, thus fulfilling more student's needs, and providing for more interest and creativity.

Sister Jeanne's final comment is a relevant one. "I have been teaching for 22 years. I think that a teacher has to see each student as an individual and learn his interests, needs, and outlook on life and then try to meet him on those terms—not only by teaching him—but by learning from him. Learning is a two-way street."

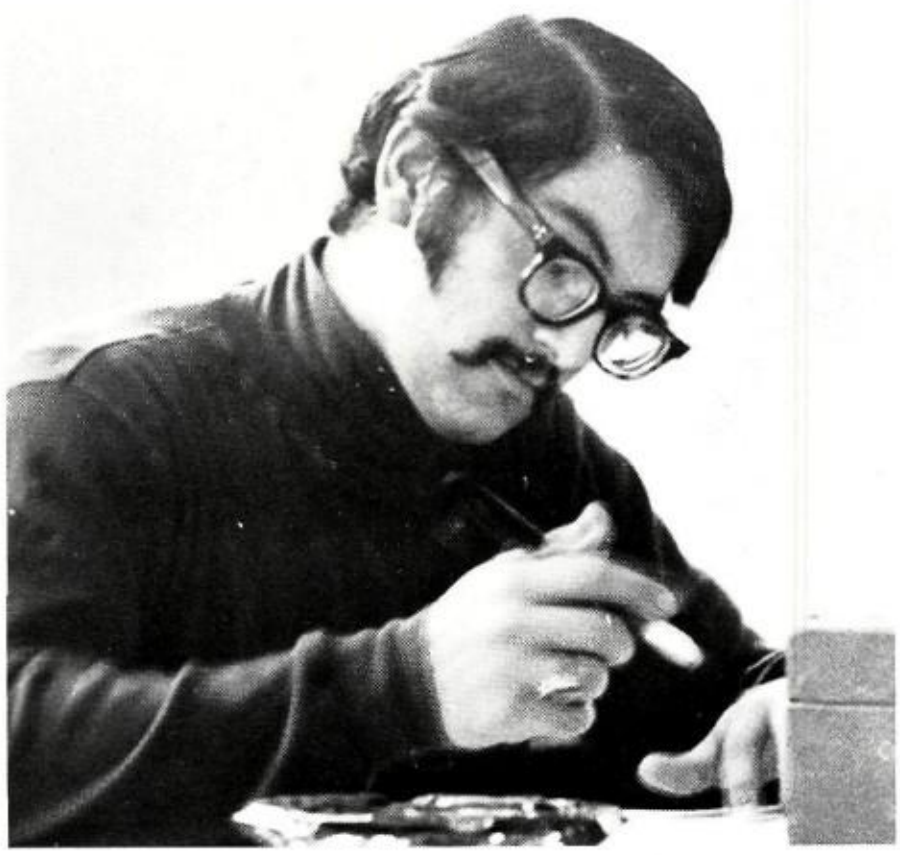
Sister Jeanne—Department Head, English Literature and Film.



Mr. Bradley—English II, and Fantasy Literature.

Miss Woods—Writing and Listening for College Bound Students.

Sister Barbara Stark—Power Reading, Visual Concepts.



Mr. Paravano—Greek and Roman Philosophy, English I.

Enjoying Music Key to Fine Arts

The Music Department endeavors to lead students to enjoy music through performance in choral, band, piano, and guitar.

This year, the large enrollment of 75 students in choral is proof that students do enjoy singing together. Music of all kinds, ranging from Pop Rock to classics like the Hallelujah chorus from Handel's "Messiah," are performed by the choral group.

Band, under the direction of Mr. Keith Williams, offers opportunities to perform at home games as well as major student body functions such as the Homecoming coronation.

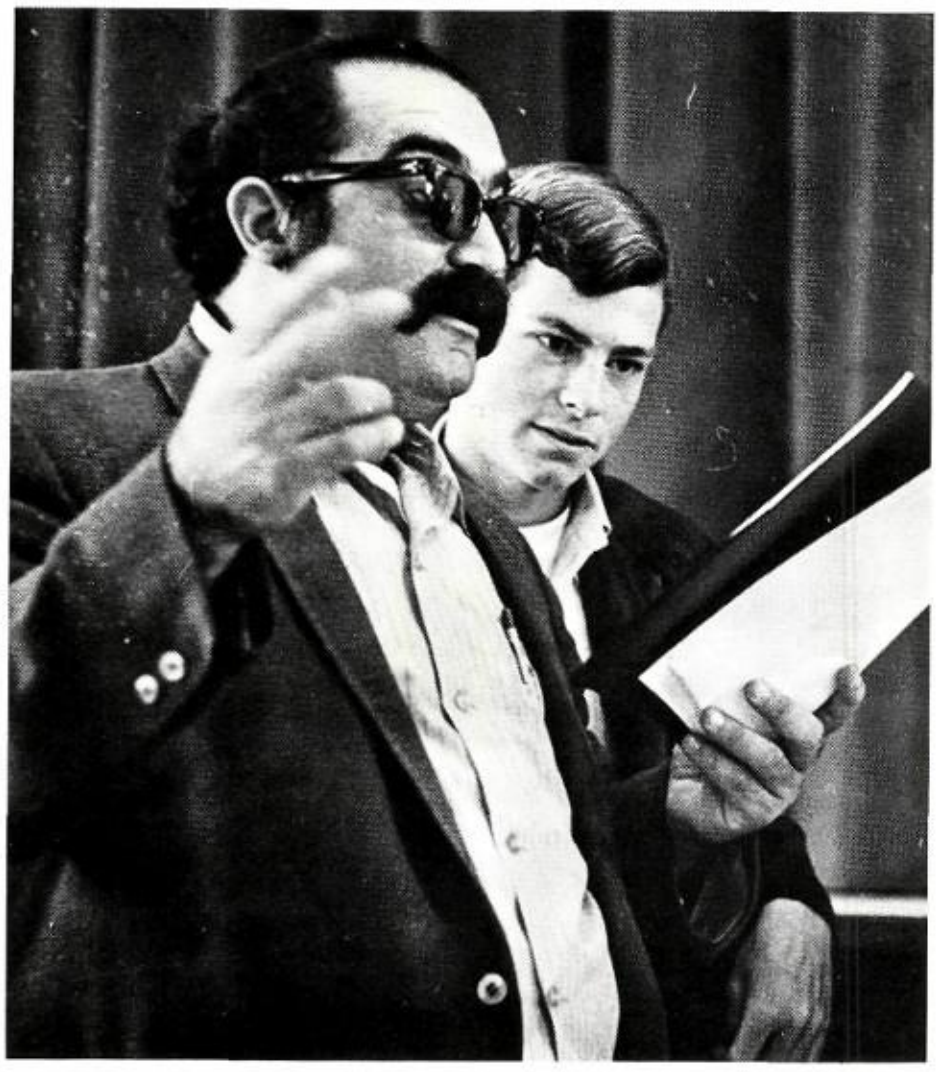
"Our philosophy is to take all students, who, regardless of talent, apply for any of the above classes," says Sister Dolora, Department Chairman.

Mr. Williams—Band.

Sister Jeanne Morningstar—Art I, II.

Mrs. Woods—Choral.

Sister Dolora—Music, Choral.



Mr. Gabriel—Drama, Introduction to Drama.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Since a law has been passed which lowers the voting age requirements to 18 years, Social Studies has increased in importance. The purpose of these classes is to develop the students into responsible, informed citizens through knowledge of history and contemporary problems.

Brother Edmund, the head of this department, feels many students this year will be "more capable of discerning clearly the major issues of the day." Every effort is being made to teach students the art of analyzing today's complex social and political problems.

Students study historical events, mistakes, and achievements, in order to understand and evaluate man's present condition. They also learn how to work for a better future, by avoiding past mistakes. Our pertinent history courses will aid us in securing a better, and hopefully, peaceful tomorrow.

Mr. Gabriel—Civics.

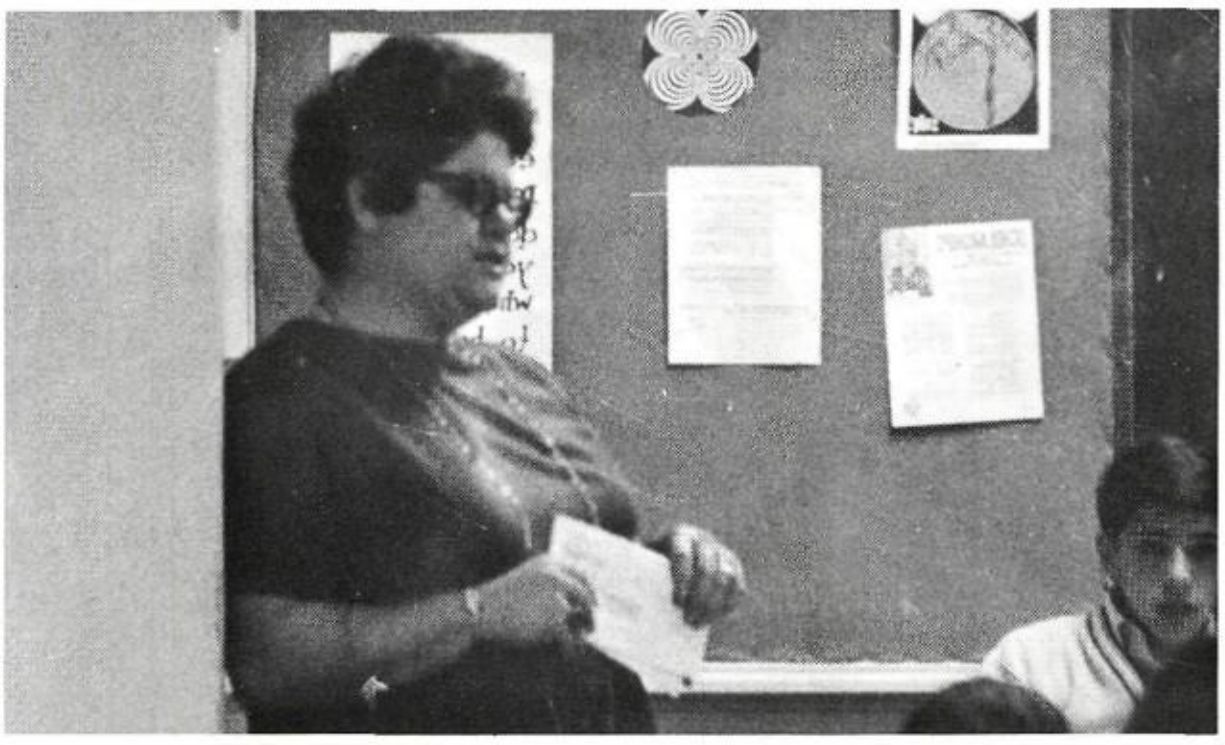
Mr. Sealy—U.S. History, Sociology.



Miss Shamey—Civics, U.S. History.

Mr. Tipre—World Cultures, Current Events.

Math Fulfills Needs

In a technological society no one can claim to be educated without a fair knowledge of Mathematics. Saint Monica's Mathematics Department seeks to provide courses which will fulfill the needs of all students whether they need the fundamentals only, or are striving for proficiency leading to further study in the fields of mathematics and science. We hope our students will learn to: realize their power of creativity through expression of new ideas; think clearly in situations involving change and uncertainty; and apply elementary deductive logic to everyday affairs.

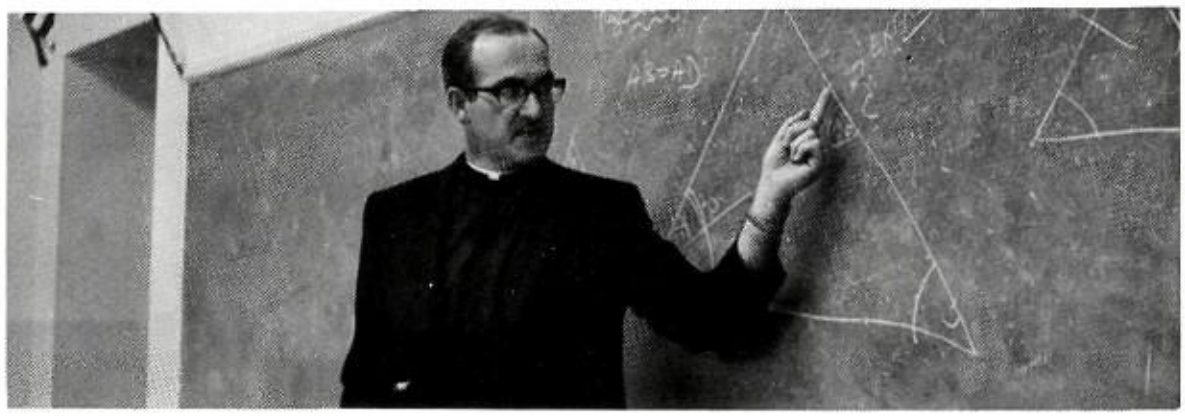
Mr. Rezinas—Geometry, Algebra I.



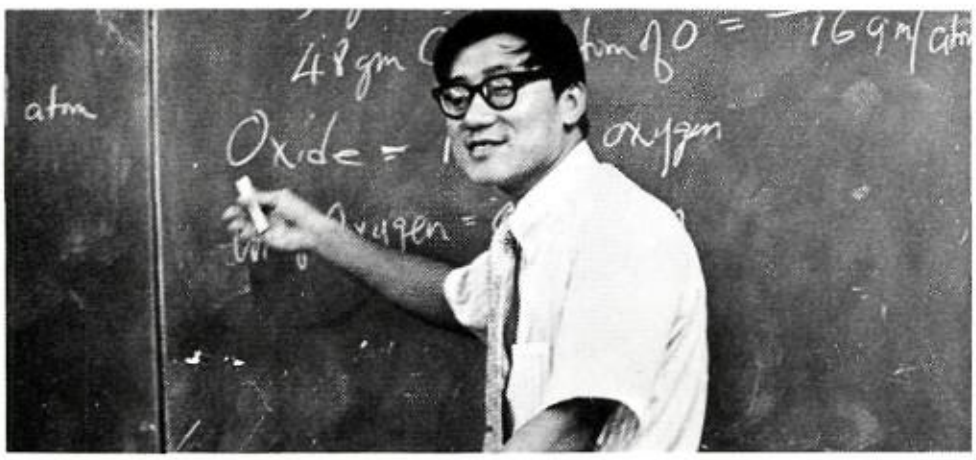
Brother Romuald—Geometry, Algebra I, Algebra II.

Science Provides Freedom

In the Science Department this year, students have the advantage of more modern laboratories and equipment. In the curriculum teachers have given students the opportunity "to make relevant that which is going to be most important in their lives, which might be biological in foundation," according to Sister Victoria, Science Chairman. The Science teachers through their interest have provided students with much more freedom to learn at their own pace.

Sister Victoria advocates more individualization of instruction and more flexibility in science study, too. This new emphasis in learning, together with new responsibilities have encouraged students in an independent and self-discovery approach to science.

Mr. Vakil—Physics, General Science.



Mr. Chang—Chemistry, Physical Science Survey.

Mrs. Stapenhorst—Patterns in Biology, Survey Biology.

Sister Victoria—Department Head, Patterns in Biology, Laboratory Biology.

Sister Marian Ruth—Biology.

Communication Emphasized in Foreign Lang.

During the past few years there have been many changes in the teaching of foreign languages at Saint Monica's. The emphasis is now being placed on communication and oral skills. The foreign language teachers are endeavoring to implement these changes by using methods that employ audio-visual techniques. In addition, a system of tutoring by native speaking students has been introduced as an aid to the students who need help.

The relations between students and teachers in these classes tend to be understanding and close because the goal is that of communication. A student who communicates in a foreign language learns not only how to speak, but also studies the culture and events that influence the people's culture. They grow in the knowledge of other people by speaking their language, by writing to them, and by reading their literature. It is the aim of this department that the students grow in the knowledge of other cultures and strive to live and appreciate them through a spirit of understanding.

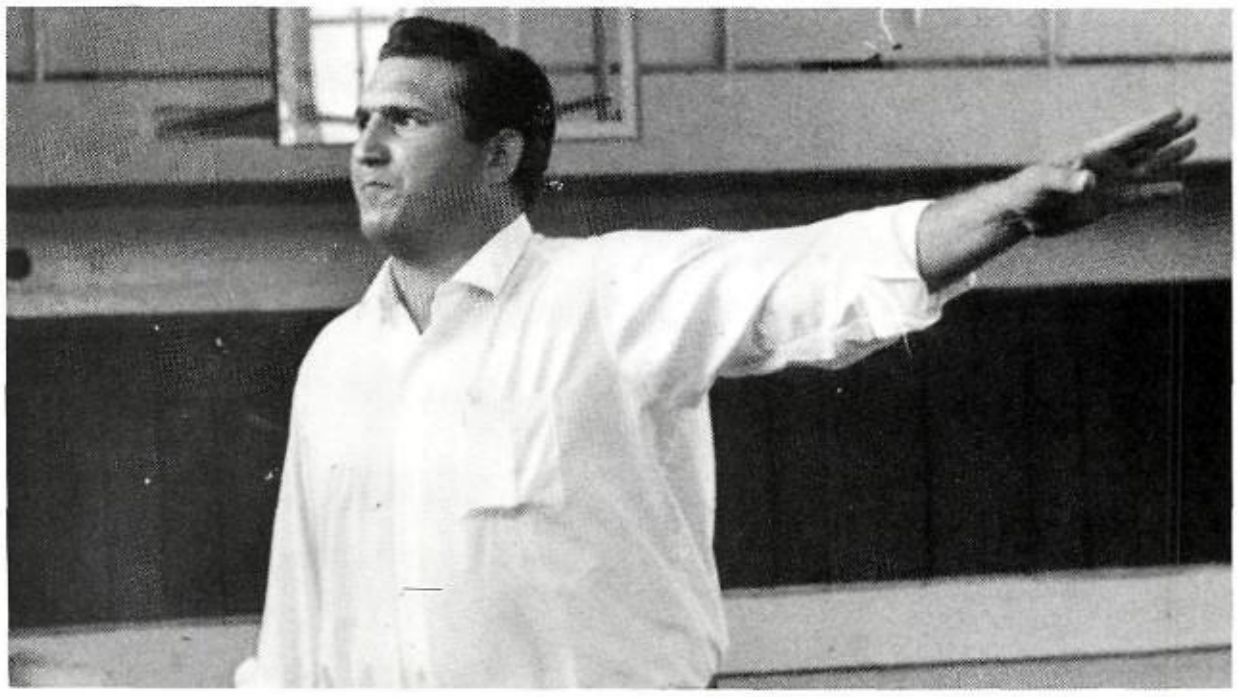
Sport Class On Campus— Unique

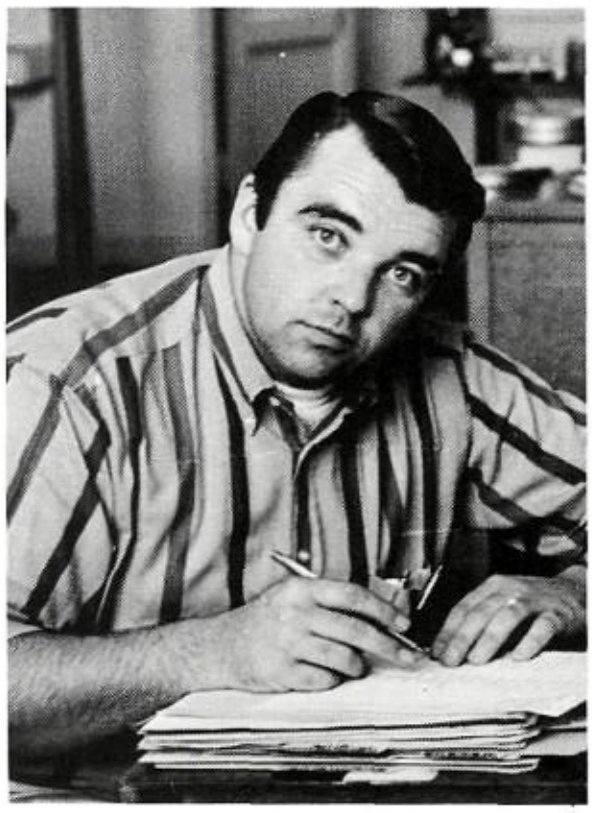
This year the staff of four Physical Education teachers put their heads together and came up with something new. St. Monica is now unique in that it is the only Catholic High School in Southern California with a seventh period sports class. The arrangement being, practice for all afternoon interscholastic sports will now be an hour earlier. This setup is more convenient in that, both the participants and the coaching staff would return to school an hour earlier. Once the sport is out of season, the individuals on that team have a choice of participating in another sport or taking a general physical education class. This program is a major one in that it encompasses over 200 male students.

New sports were offered this year, an intramural wrestling program, as well as a golf team were organized on campus. The golf team's foundation was firmly planted when it joined the Pioneer League.

The other half of this year's program was headed by Mrs. Burton and Miss Davidson. Volleyball, Basketball, and Swimming were three G.A.A. sports which had successful seasons. Our co-ed Volleyball team also faired very well in team competition.

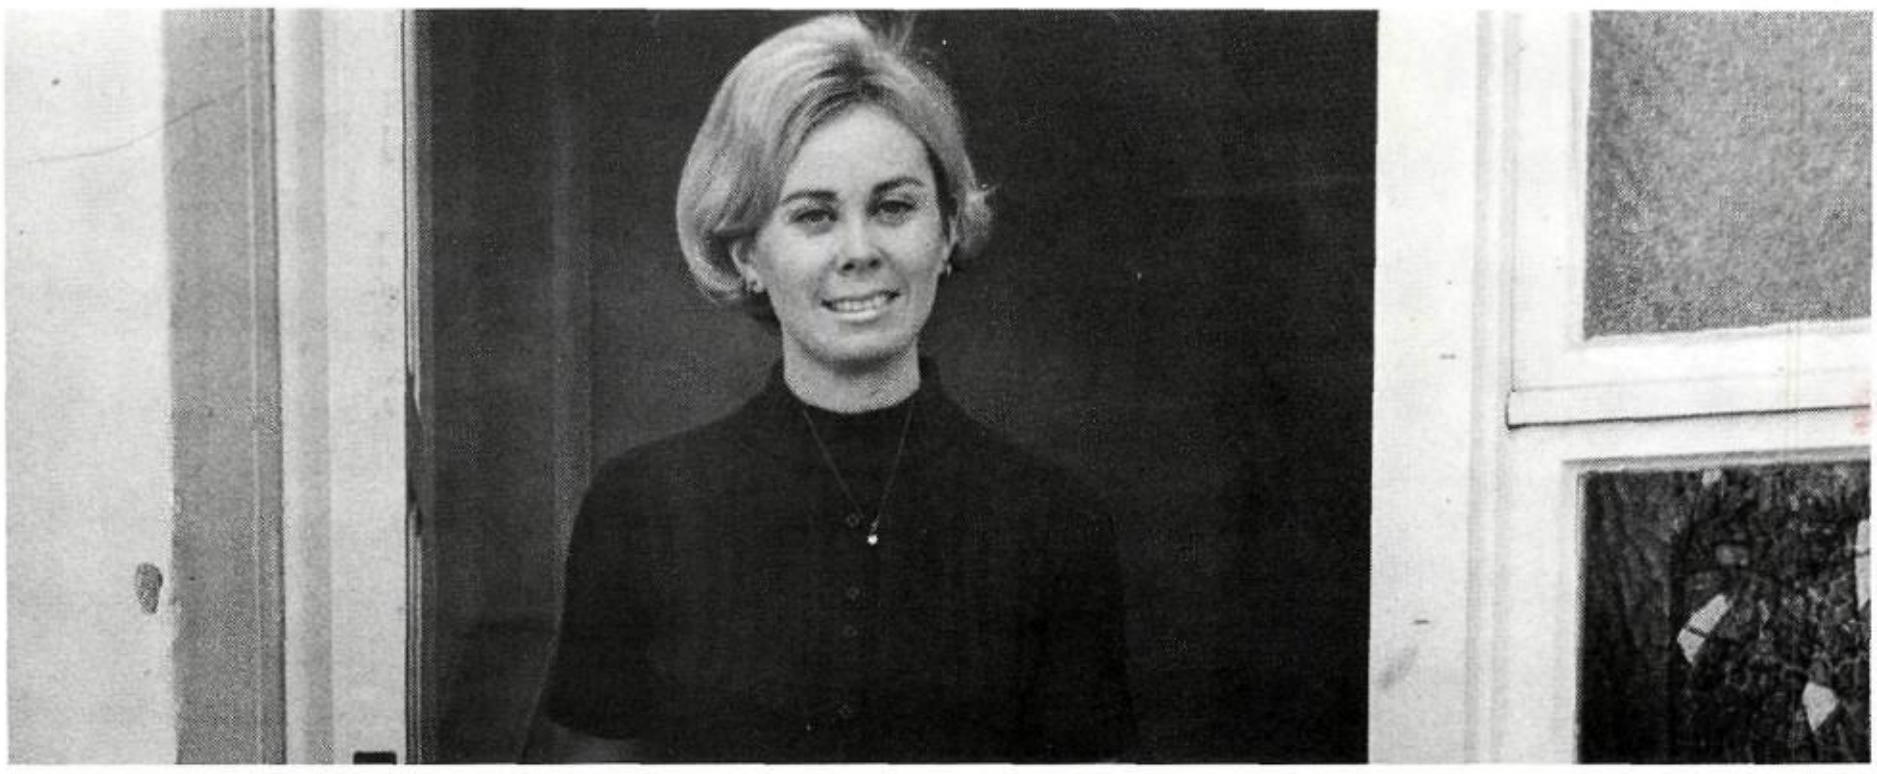


Mr. Altobelli—Department Head, Varsity Football Coach.



Mr. Kissane—Athletic Director, Basketball Coach.

Mrs. Burton—Girls P.E., Swim Team Coach.



Miss Davidson—Girls P.E. Head, Volleyball Coach.

Mrs. Bayley—Department Head, Home Arts.

Home Arts Prepare Girls For Home Life

Our lives are enriched by every form of experience and life. Our world consists of rich men, poor men, thieves, beggars, doctors, and lawyers, who all come home from a hard day's work. Now Saint Monica's has provided for the training of the future mothers and housewives in the care and management of the homes our men will come home to.

Mrs. Bayley, head of the Home Arts Department, tells us of the changes made for this year. "More classes are available for the students and Consumership has been introduced as a new class this year." It will prepare the girls in home management and finance.

As a new member of the school and Home Arts Department, Sister Bernadine teaches sewing. Mrs. Rutowski is in her second year of teaching foods and cooking, and this is Mrs. Bayley's fifth year in teaching the girls of Saint Monica's the "tricks of the trade" as future wives and mothers.

Mrs. Bayley tells of her goals and hopes for future Home Arts courses. "We want to offer as broad a program for home economics as possible; included in the department are courses on child development and care and home management. "I believe every girl should take a form of Home Economics, liberal or feminist, you still have to eat!"

Sister Bernadina—Home Arts.

Mrs. Rutowski—Cooking, Advance Cooking.

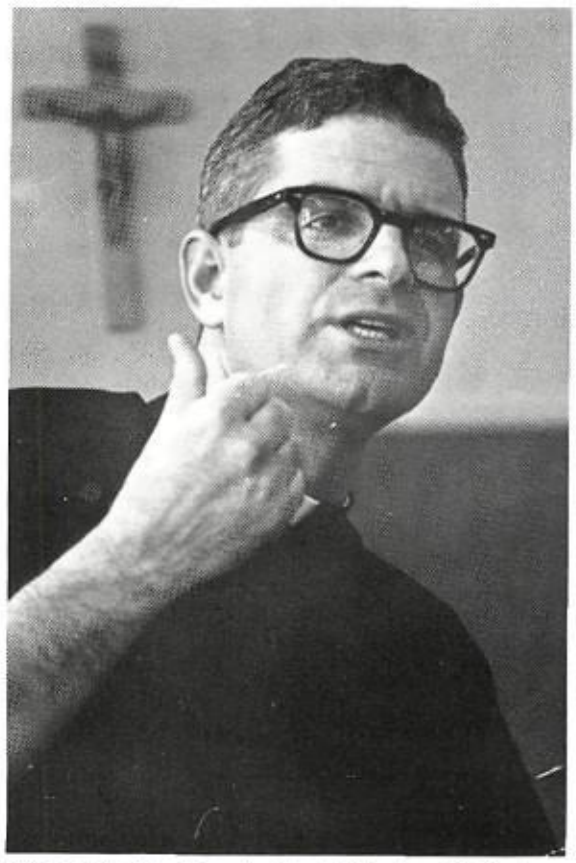
Religion Answers Today's Problems

In the more difficult times facing today's students, the answers to our problems often come through the relationship between student and teacher. The "communication gap" has been bridged by our teachers through their efforts to relate to us and their concern for us.

Father Scott, chairman of the religion department says it is the aim of this department to give a clearer picture of the relevant Christ as he lives and moves through his people in the world today.

Therefore, religion classes are offered that deal chiefly with the development of the knowledge of ourselves in the context of this modern society.

Father Scott feels, "The age we live in is chaotic and people are absorbed in material things," but through religious learning about "self," students are better prepared to cope with today's challenges. With this knowledge, we can help make this world a place of love, unity, and peace.



Father Scott—Dept. Head, Senior Religion, Marriage Course.

Communication Main Goal for Library

Mrs. Mary Shamey—Library Clerk.

This year there has been better cooperation and communication between the faculty and the library. The goals for the library this year are a small listening center for students to enjoy records, a microfilm reader for students' use, more books and shelves, and complete revision of the catalog.

Mrs. Zech, head librarian, is well qualified for her position. She received her Master's degree in Library Science from Immaculate Heart College. Mrs. Zech likes the close-knit family atmosphere of Saint Monica's very much. Her personal goal for the library is "to acquaint all interested students with reference sources and how to use these materials, and to teach them the basic library skills that are necessary for college work or private research." Mrs. Shamey, the other member of the library staff, enjoys her work also; books have always fascinated her, and she likes the challenge young people offer.

The future goals for the library include larger quarters so more students can use the library at one time, study corrals for researchers, and a small enclosed area for tutoring and discussion groups.

Sister Mary Consolata—Assistant Librarian.

Mrs. Zech—Head Librarian.

Business Develops Occupational Skills

The business department curriculum provides the student with consumer information, guidance, and learning experiences, as well as business and economic understanding necessary for intelligent citizenship. It provides the student with common business skills for personal use, a strong business background, and develops occupational skills.

The basic business courses constitute that phase of business education which contributes to the primary understanding and knowledge needed by all students. In addition, they provide students with skills, knowledge, and training that will help them complete various social and business functions without conquering vocational skills.

Sister Constance Mary—Department Head, Transcription, Shorthand II.

Mrs. Johnston—Typing I.

Mr. Rennie—Typing I.

Mrs. Shirley Strange—English for Secretaries, Shorthand I, Office Practice.

We Would Like to Thank You

Have you seen the little piggies
Crawling in the dirt
And for all the little piggies
Life is getting worse
Always having dirt to play around in.
Have you seen the bigger piggies
In their starched white shirts
You will find the bigger piggies
Stirring up the dirt
Always have clean shirts to play around in.
In their styes with all their backing
They don't care what goes on around
In their eyes there's something lacking
What they need's a damn good whacking.
Everywhere there's lots of piggies
Living piggy lives
You can see them out for dinner
With their piggy wives
Clutching forks and knives to eat their bacon.

WE TAKE PRIDE IN THANKING THE MAINTENANCE CREW, BECAUSE WITHOUT THEM OUR CAMPUS WOULD LOOK LIKE THE FOLLOWING . . .

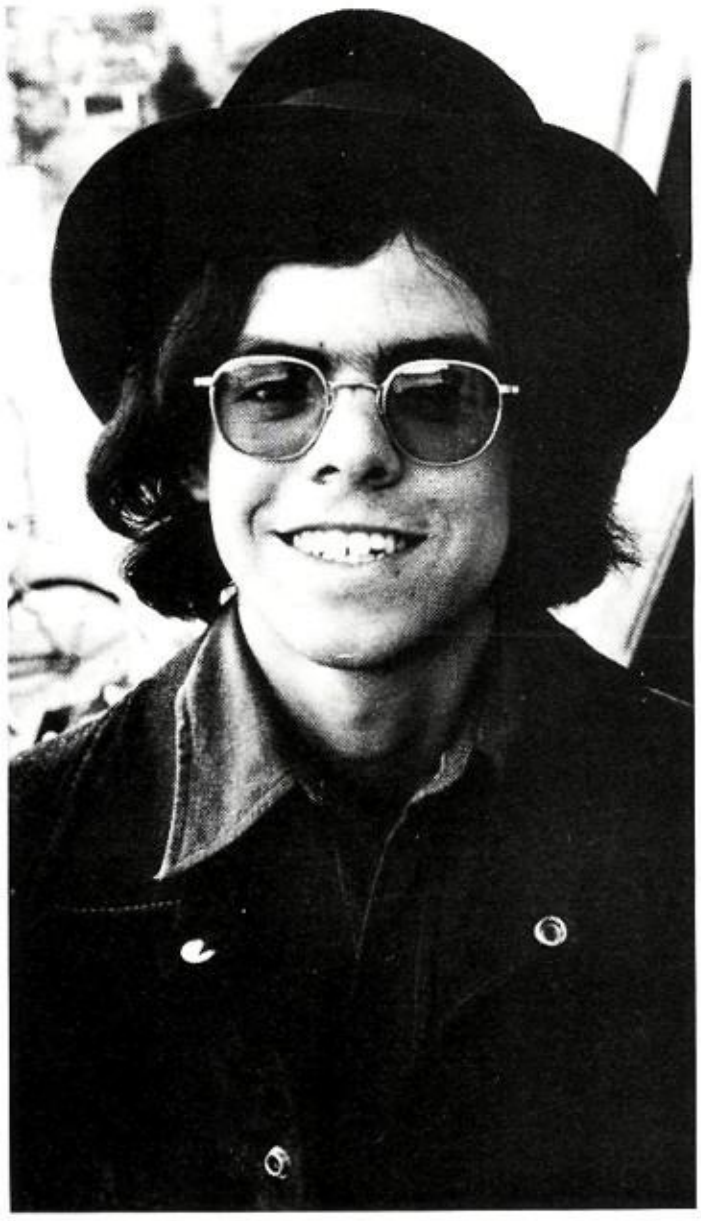
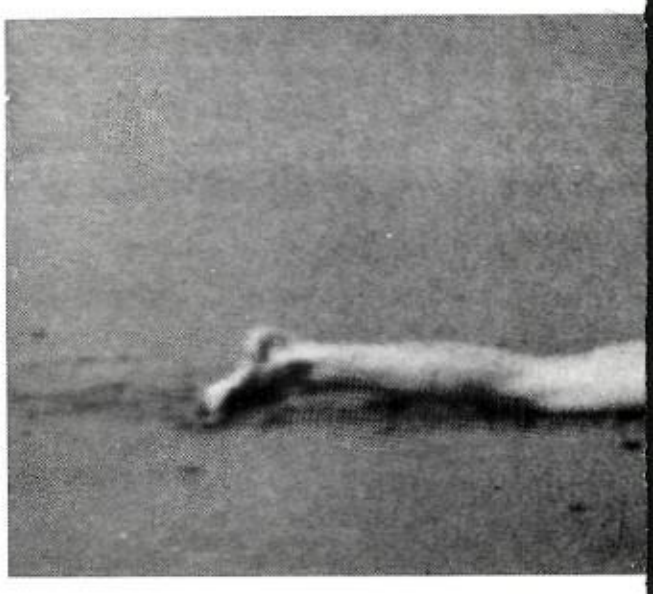
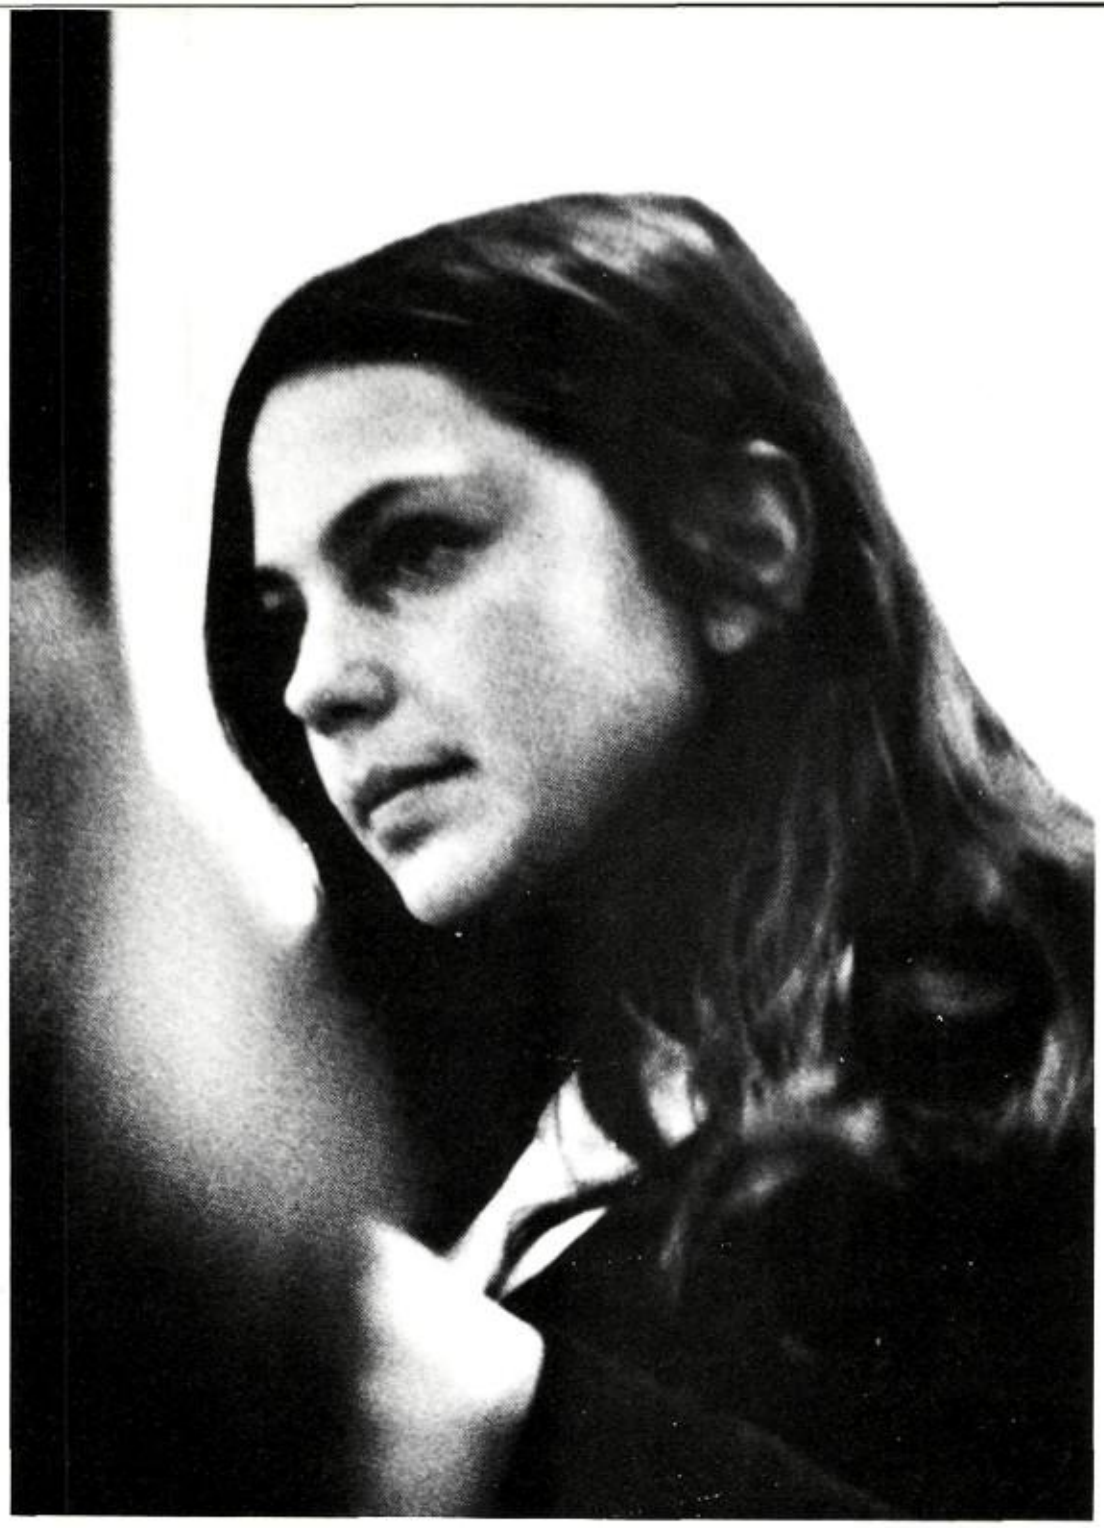
Faces in the Crowd

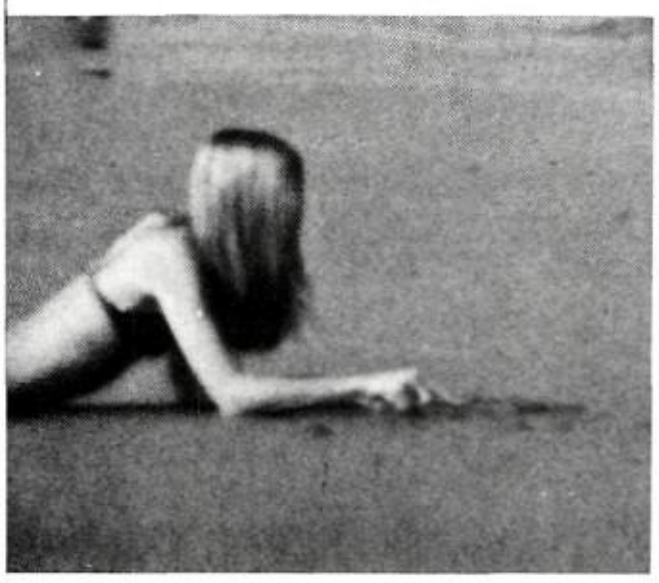






It is to faces that

It is the common wonder of all men, how among so many millions of faces there should be none alike.



Compass '71 dedicates this book

The sun is a star of enthusiasm as it tirelessly sets and rises, marking our lives with shadows, and reflections, and days and nights. Follow in its example and light the path of others. Don't venture too near the sun or you may be burned, but don't wander far enough to freeze with indifference. A theme of life is the pursuing of your horizon. The Compass staff of 1971 offers you this challenge.
